CONGRESS GIRDS TO DECIDE ISSUE OF ADJOURNING

Opposition Demands Session Continue.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—The first clash between the Roosevelt administration and what Wendell Willkie called the "loyal opposition" will occur this week, possibly on Tuesday, on a motion to adjourn the 76th congress sine die.

Sam Rayburn.

Mr. Willkie borrowed the term from Great Britain, where his majesty's loyal opposition is a recognized informal part of the government, the function of which is to operate as a check upon excesses by his majesty's loyal majority in the house of commons.

The Roosevelt administration will endeavor to bring the 76th congress to a close this week, thus giving the members a six weeks' vacation before the 77th congress meets on Jan. 3. The President has denied that he told the Democratic leaders to get congress out of Washington.

No Roosevelt Legislation.

Lest, however, any one get the notion that he wishes congress to stay on the job during the next six weeks he was careful to state that he has no legislation to propose and is not interested in immediate passage of any pending legislation.

That furnished the cue for the administration supporters to get in line for the adjournment resolution. Speaker Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] predicted today that the adjournment resolution will be passed but admitted that there will be a fight. The precise date of adjournment will be fixed by the leaders tomorrow.

The argument of the administration leaders is that there is no reason for keeping congress in session, particularly since the election in which Mr. Roosevelt received an impressive vote of confidence, tantamount to a mandate, they say, to continue his foreign and domestic policies.

See Sounding Board Drive.

The sole purpose of keeping congress in session, they argue, is to provide a sounding board for opposition to the acts of the President, tho such opposition was repudiated by the popular verdict on Nov. 5.

Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. [R., Mass.], minority leader of the house, reiterated that the Republicans and numerous Democratic allies will oppose the adjournment resolution and that he will insist on putting the members on record in a roll call on the motion.

Mr. Martin has stressed the importance of passing pending legislation, including the Walter-Logan bill to liberalize appeals from boards to the courts and revision of the labor act, both passed by the house.

Many Democrats in Line.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] said that if the war situation is so delicate that the President feels he cannot go more than 12 hours travel distance from Washington congress should not absent itself for six weeks. Many Democrats as well as Republicans regard it the duty of congress to stay on the job to check impulsive acts by Mr. Roosevelt that might get us into war.

If congress adjourns the Walter-Logan bill and the Wagner act amendments will die and it will be necessary to start all over again with such legislation in the next congress. That would be a triumph for the long course of obstruction the administration has offered to these modifications of New Deal legislation.

Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], majority leader of the senate, pledged the Republicans several months ago that he would permit them to bring the Walter-Logan bill up for consideration tomorrow, which marks the end of the gentlemen's agreement for three day recesses during the Presidential canvass.

HERO OF WORLD SERIES TO SIGN CONTRACT TODAY

Jimmy Wilson, 40 year old catcher-coach of the Cincinnati Reds and hero of the 1940 world series, will sign a contract in Chicago today as manager of the Cubs, General Manager James Gallagher announced yesterday. He will succeed Gabby Hartnett, who was dismissed last Wednesday.

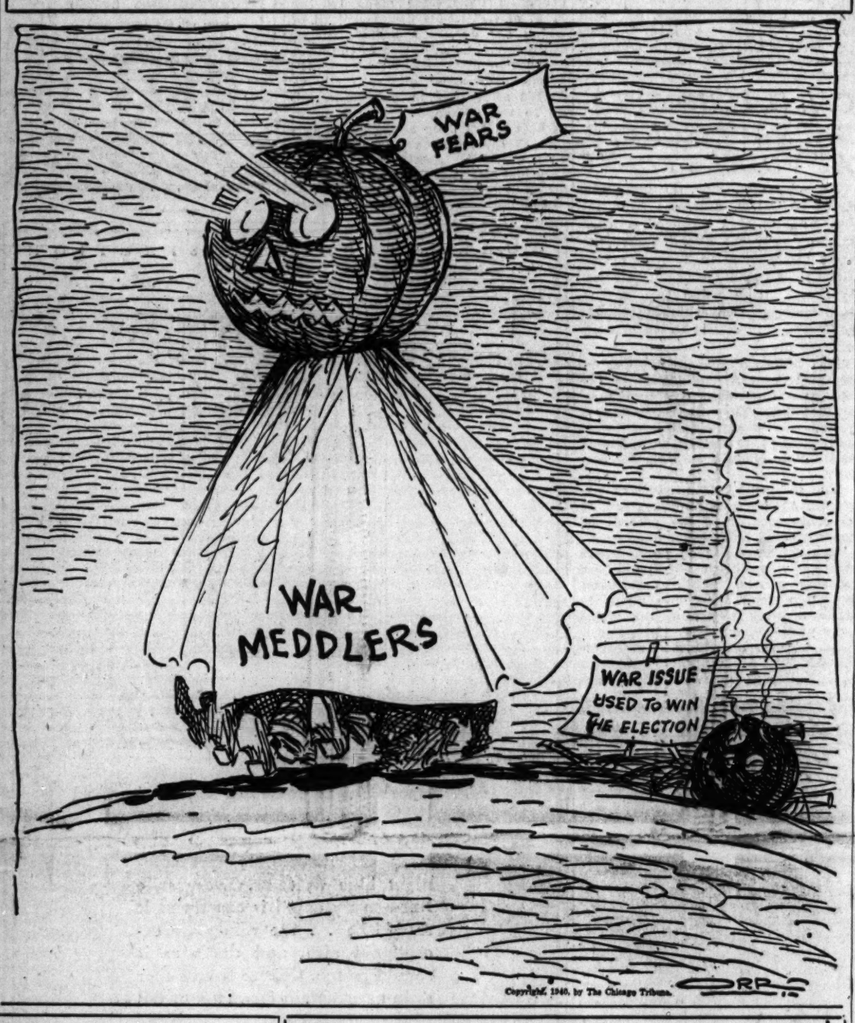
HALLOWEEN IS OVER, BUT THE PUMPKIN HEADS ARE STILL WITH US



Three Gunmen Seize $18,000 in Loop Office

Harry Siegel, 45 years old, head of the Midwest Feature Service, an advertising agency, returned Saturday from New York City, where he had purchased $1,800 worth of antique jewelry.

Harry Siegel.

He spent the night in a loop hotel and walked over to his offices at 111 West Jackson blvd. yesterday morning to put the jewelry in a safe.

As he passed the jewelry shop of Eli Zolat on the ground floor at 103 West Jackson, he waved to the jeweler, whom he has known for years, and proposed that Zolat come up later for a drink.

Owns Rare Coin Collection.

Zolat appeared shortly and, over a highball, the men discussed business and Siegel's hobbies. He collects old jewelry, coins, perfumes, and liqueurs and vintage wines. His coin collection is regarded as so exceptional that the government has borrowed specimens on occasion to place on exhibition.

The men had been together only a few minutes when there was a knock on the door of Siegel's private office, which rarely is used. Siegel opened the door and a man, putting on a pair of dark glasses, said "Hello, Harry," and pushed his way in with a gun.

Two other robbers, also carrying guns and wearing dark glasses, followed. All three held handkerchiefs to their faces.

Forced to Open Safes.

Siegel said the safe was open, and the men took the jewelry he had brought from New York. They also forced Siegel to open two other safes, cuffing him and striking him with the butts of their guns in ordering him to make haste.

"Open that safe in 10 seconds," the leader said, indicating one of the vaults, "or we'll kill you."

The bandits took ten $100 bills from one safe. They also took $10,000 in jewelry and perfumes, and $7,000 worth of rare coins—$18,000 in all.

The bandits gagged Siegel with adhesive tape and bound his arms and legs to a chair. Then the leader turned to Zolat and asked: "How do you want to be tied up?" Zolat crossed his wrists and the bandits taped him, but did not bind him to his chair.

Jeweler's $130 Passed Up.

Zolat had taken $130 from his pocket and placed it on a table, but the bandits did not take it. They rode in the elevator to the ground floor and left without exciting the suspicion of the operator.

Zolat, who lives at 1019 East 46th street, was arrested as a receiver of stolen goods Sept. 12, 1938, and was granted one year's probation by Judge Robert Jerome Dunne. Stanley Plaharski, who had used his car in a series of Oak Park burglaries, is serving a term in Joliet penitentiary. In May, 1933, Zolat was held to the grand jury in $20,000 bail on charges of receiving stolen property and burglary, but the charges were nol prossed.

In view of this record, Detectives John Lannon, John McMahon, and the squad of Detective Sergeant Joseph Burbach were holding Zolat last night for questioning.

War? Can Civilians Take It?

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—That war has become a contest between capacities of civilian populations for endurance of hardships, suffering and danger, rather than between armed forces, is apparent from communiques issued by the belligerents in this war.

While German communiques are confined mostly to reporting the damage wrought on the United Kingdom by almost continuous waves of day and night bombers, the British communiques and the press stress the damage the royal air force is doing in Germany.

As an example of British headlines over official news, the News-World today streamered: "R. A. F. Soon Damps Nazi Glee Over Coventry." "Still No Rest for Hamburg," said another heading.

The fact that London and the Midlands and other parts of the United Kingdom have not had much rest since early September seems to be given little importance against the comforting news that German civilians are getting "just as much if not more" from the R. A. F.

Hamburg Raids Stressed.

The importance attached to the raids on Hamburg is indicated by the fact that the official war summary today stressed the attacks made on Nov. 15, 16, and 17. The same summary devoted only a few words to the operation of land forces in the middle east.

The present day total war, in which any highly industrialized city may become a prime object of attack, is creating a thousand more heroes and heroines among civilians than among the military forces. The remark of King George VI, yesterday to the survivors of devastated Coventry that "Coventry can take it; the people are wonderful" followed a statement of the Coventry lord mayor that "when the real story of Coventry is told, countless tales of heroism will emerge."

Children Become Heroes.

Even children have become modern war heroes for the fortitude, patience, and courage they display under terrifying bombardments. Tonight a 12 year old London schoolgirl smiled bravely and spoke encouragingly to squads that had been working for six hours to extricate her from débris. She begged them first to save her 74 year old grandfather, who was not seriously hurt. The girl died in an ambulance as she said, "I am so glad grandpa is all right."

Total war demands considerably more from the civilian population than merely working longer hours and withstanding aerial bombardments bravely, and this was brought home by Oliver Lyttelton, president of the Board of Trade, when he said:

"The public should be told that there will be inconveniences and hardships, but they can rest assured that in submitting to them they are putting tanks, airplanes, rifles, and all other apparatus of war into the hands of our fighting services."

Rationing to Be Widened.

A new order, it is revealed, will be issued shortly providing for more widespread rationing of goods despite the approach of Christmas. The rationing will affect 52 industries and about 800 main products.

"Silk stockings will be scarce and as difficult to obtain as Christmas boxes," Lyttelton said. The government wishes to conserve silk for war purposes, chiefly for the R. A. F.

Despite assurances of the ministry of information that food stocks are plentiful, Reynolds News today said that "acute shortages in some districts of eggs, oranges, butter, marmalade, chocolate, and even cigarets" have aroused considerable criticism.

U. S. PLANS FOR DEFENSE HIT ARGENTINE SNAG

Won't Co-operate, Says Official.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 17 (AP).—Argentina is "not disposed to coöperate in any common [hemisphere] plan until we consider danger of attack is actually here," a high official said today.

Informed sources declared the government felt that plans of its neighbors, Paraguay and Uruguay, to construct with United States assistance air or naval bases that might be available to all American nations would be an intrusion into Argentina's sphere of influence.

Observers of Argentina's policies, in which she frequently has taken a lone stand in Pan-American affairs, said the program for hemisphere defense is likely to result in one of two things: Argentina will attempt to block development of such coöperative defense bases, or she will develop her own naval and aerial facilities to balance the activities of her neighbors.

Foreign Office Delays Action.

An Argentine foreign office spokesman, however, denied that Argentina has forwarded communications regarding Uruguayan defense conversations with the United States.

The Uruguayan cabinet has unanimously approved negotiations with the United States in which the question of making Uruguayan naval and air facilities available to other American nations is being studied.

The Argentine high official's words left the impression that, altho Argentina signed the Panama and Havana declarations of solidarity, she would prepare only for self-defense.

"The declarations at Havana and Panama were signed by all American nations only because they were very general," he asserted. "Had the declarations signified definite compromises, all countries would have thought long before signing. Argentina intends to contribute to continental defense by defending herself."

Tells Views on Aggression.

Asked what the Argentine reaction would be to foreign aggression against another American nation, he replied:

"It would be necessary that we study the specific case. If the aggression was directed against a nation far away, in such form or at such distance as not to threaten Argentina directly, we would have to study the matter."

Argentina has a mission in Washington negotiating for economic assistance, which some circles say may take the form of heavy credits. These sources said the negotiations might result in a change in Argentina's attitude toward continental defense.

Official sources in other lower South American countries — Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, and Bolivia, as well as Uruguay—have all shown a disposition to coöperate in mutual defense.

Baldomir Defends Program.

SAN JOSE, Uruguay, Nov. 17 (AP).—President Alfredo Baldomir tonight defended Uruguay's right to establish Pan-American defense bases with the assistance of the United States. He also declared that Uruguay must accept constitutional reforms to eliminate an equal division of the senate and thus do away with a stalemate that is blocking sections of his defense program.

Spaniards Warn Uruguay.

MADRID, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Falangist newspaper Arriba, commenting today on what it said were reports Uruguay may cede naval and air bases to the United States, labeled such a transfer "an act of suicide" against which the shades of the old Spanish conquerors would protest.

"If Uruguay ceded Punta del Este to the United States," the paper said, "it would be as tho she threw herself from those beautiful rocks into an abyss."

COLD WAVE HITS CUBA—HAVANA HAS RECORD LOW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 17.—One of the worst cold waves in Cuba's history, accompanied by strong northerly gales, gripped the island today. A new record low temperature of 50 degrees was set in Havana at 4 a. m. At 11 a. m. the temperature had risen only 10 degrees and by noon began dropping again. The forecast for tomorrow was continued cold.

BRITISH FIGHTER PLANE LEADER IS ORDERED TO U. S.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 17.—In order to make use of the practical experience and scientific data gained in air warfare for the creation of new aircraft designs Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh C. T. Dowding, chief of the fighter command of the royal air force, will go to the United States shortly, it was announced tonight. He also is expected to arrange closer cooperation between R. A. F. experts and American manufacturers.

Air Marshal Sir Hugh Dowding.

Along with this disclosure, the air ministry announced a far-reaching shuffle of the R. A. F. command and the grant to the British army of its own air force after years of controversy.

Compromise with R. A. F.

"A principal feature of the new arrangements is the decision to set up a command of the R. A. F. to be called the army coöperation command which will comprise all squadrons allotted to the army in the United Kingdom together with associated seasoned training units," the air ministry said. "An agreement in principle was reached when the R. A. F. met the army demand for complete control of the air force with an offer to turn over several units."

The authoritative Press association described the army coöperation command as an "admirable compromise." It said that "in some quarters there has been a demand for an army air arm comparable to the fleet air arm. This proposal . . . has been found impossible of realization."

Seek to Coördinate Tactics.

The coöperation command's primary function will be to experiment, and to organize and train men for the coördination of R. A. F. tactics with those of the army.

Altho the army command will have the last word in regard to operational employment of the squadrons, the new command will be under an air officer with a senior army officer as chief of staff, and staff officers will be divided equally between the army and R. A. F.

Air Marshal Sir Arthur Sheridan Barratt, 49 years old, who commanded the British air forces in France until the French collapse, was named to head the army coöperation command.

New Chief of Home Defense.

Air Marshal Dowding, 58, who has been mainly responsible for the defense of Britain against German air attacks, will be succeeded by Air Vice Marshal W. S. Douglas, 47, who was made an air marshal along with his promotion to command the fighter squadrons.

Air Vice Marshal A. T. Harris, 48, was named to replace Douglas as deputy chief of the air staff under Chief Sir Charles Portal.

Air Vice Marshal O. T. Boyd, 51, was promoted to air marshal and made deputy air officer commanding the middle east command—a new post, reflecting the growing importance of the Mediterranean theater of war.

Air Marshal E. L. Gossage, 49, was made commander of the balloon barrage in the place of Vice Marshal Boyd.

BLUM, DALADIER, GAMELIN UNDER FORMAL ARREST

VICHY, France, Nov. 17.—Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander in chief of the allied armies up to the time of the allied collapse in France, and the former premiers Leon Blum and Edouard Daladier, all of whom have been in "administrative internment," were formally arrested today and transferred to the detention center at Bourrasol, near Riom. This action is thought to indicate that the trials of persons charged with the responsibility of France's war declaration may be imminent.

Gen. Gamelin and the two premiers have been charged with having failed in their official duties, either by neglecting preparations for national defense or by weakening the French position by a policy contrary to the national interests.

FALL OF VITAL ALBANIAN BASE BELIEVED NEAR

ATHENS, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Greek army is hammering at the very gates of Koritza, largest and most important city in Italian conquered Albania, and occupation of this jumping off place for the Fascist invasion of Greece is believed imminent, a government spokesman announced tonight. There were some reports that Koritza had been occupied, but official confirmation was lacking.

In the van of the Italian retreat from this vital center, 10 miles inside Albania, were 130 Italian tanks, reported seeking desperately to escape into neighboring Jugo-Slavia.

Some reports said the fleeing tank columns already had crossed into Jugo-Slavia, but the government spokesman said there was no confirmation of this. The tanks were reported cut off from other Italian forces and many of them were said to have fallen into Greek hands.

[In a dispatch from Athens to London, Exchange Telegraph, British news agency, said that an Italian motorized division was reported to have been destroyed by Greek artillery and planes on the Koritza front.]

Fight Before City's Gates.

The Greek spokesman, in recounting the action near Koritza, said:

"You must realize how difficult the occupation of Mount Morava, three miles from Koritza, was yesterday. Since then we may say that we are fighting the enemy rearguard before the gates of Koritza.

"The Italians have been resisting on Mount Ivan, even closer to Koritza, but this resistance has been crushed. Occupation of the entire region is expected by the action which will develop more to the south.

"Greek troops, by brilliant action, succeeded in reaching the gates of Koritza and are threatening the city, the most important in Albania."

The Greeks said the Italians were hastily preparing new defense positions in the Pinarette and other mountain ranges west of the Koritza plain on a line roughly 25 miles from the frontier. It was believed they were getting ready to surrender Koritza and retire to the new defense line.

Guns Dominate Road.

In the Pindus sector, southwest of Koritza, the Greeks were said officially to be fighting deeper and deeper into Albania.

"Our guns dominate the Konitza-Erseke road in this area and our troops are mopping up the Konitza region up to and beyond the frontier," the spokesman said. "We also captured Italian booty on the road from Konitza to Melissopatra."

After the Italians had pulled out of Konitza, Greek town near the border which the Fascists had held since early in the 21 day old invasion, the Greeks said Italian airmen returned and destroyed half the buildings there.

In the Kalamas river region, nearer the Ionian seacoast, Greek officials said succinctly: "We are mopping up the terrain."

It was on this front that the Italians had scored early successes in their drive directed at Janina, key industrial city. Now, it was said, the Greeks had recrossed the Kalamas river and pushed a short distance into Albania near the town of Konispalis.

Fight With Bayonets.

From the top of the 100 mile front to the Ionian seacoast the Greeks declared the Italians were on the run under a merciless pounding by land, sea and air.

But it was around Koritza, where hardy Evzones and Macedonian mountaineers were using bayonets and hand grenades, that the fiercest fighting raged.

Tremendous losses were inflicted on the Italians, the Greeks reported, when a newly reënforced Fascist motorized column counterattacked in a desperate effort to prevent encirclement of Koritza.

On the Greek right wing, northeast of Koritza, the Greeks were reported to have cut the main northern line of communication in a drive toward Lake Ochrida. Hand to hand fighting has been raging in this sector since Thursday.

"From the sea [Ionian] to Lake

A. F. OF L. COUNCIL DEMANDS OUSTER OF RACKETEERS

New Peace Parley Bid Is Extended to C. I. O.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 17 (AP).—An offer to meet "anywhere, anytime, and any place" with representatives of the C. I. O. to seek unity in the labor movement was extended today by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

The council's stand was given in it's report to the 60th annual A. F. of L. convention, which also sharply criticized use of the Sherman antitrust laws against labor unions, expressed determination to defend democracy, and urged unions to fight racketeering.

The report referred to efforts to iron out differences between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. Then, without mentioning John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chieftain, by name, said:

"The responsibility for failure to meet, confer and endeavor to settle differences rests fully and absolutely with the leader of the C. I. O. movement."

Points Way to Unity.

"The executive council," the report said at another point, "is firmly of the opinion that labor in America can be solidified and united thru affiliation with the American Federation of Labor."

On the question of racketeering in the labor movement, the council said "we seek to establish and maintain our unions upon a high moral, ethical and law-abiding basis. We disavow racketeering, gangsterism and disregard for law most emphatically and without reservation."

Saying that individual unions exercised full control in formulation of policies and election of officers, the report continued:

"However, the executive council urges that the membership of national and international unions select and elect men of character, of known honesty and integrity, to official positions, and prevent those with criminal records from either holding official positions or from representing them in any capacity whatsoever."

Rips Arnold's Program.

Turning to antitrust laws, the council said "one of the unpleasant but most necessary tasks facing us is to report fully to organized labor concerning the stubborn, capricious, and irresponsible drive against labor and unionism now being conducted by an agency of the federal government."

"Prof. Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of the antitrust division of the department of justice since 1938, has begun to wage the most complete and concentrated legal warfare against labor ever attempted by a government agency in America," the report continued.

ROMANO RESIGNS AS UNION'S HEAD; ACTION IS FOUGHT

Louis Romano, under fire as a tool of Frank Nitti, gang leader, resigned yesterday as president of local 278 of the Bartender's union, but the fact that his resignation was accepted at a meeting of the executive board which was not authorized tended to cast doubt on whether Romano's retirement could be made to stick legally.

James U. Sammis, assistant to Roy D. Keehn, the court appointed receiver for the union, was present and told the board that its action had no standing because he and Keehn had sole authority to act for the union.

Sammis intimated that the board accepted Romano's resignation as part of a deal whereby George B. McLane, business agent of the union, who has engaged in a long court fight with the Romano faction, is to acquiesce in a motion today before Judge R. J. Dunne that the union receivership be withdrawn. This would permit the union to hold its election in January without court supervision.

Lewis Demands Higher Wages and Shorter Hours for Labor

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 17 (AP).—John L. Lewis, caustic critic of the administration's foreign and domestic policies, warned the C. I. O. national convention today of the dangers of a postwar "economic collapse" and advocated a program to meet it.

"This program calls for a progressive raising of real wages and purchasing power," Lewis said in his annual report, "for the absorption of all the unemployed thru reduced working hours and expanded production, and for legislation to insure security and opportunity for young and old people, the unemployed and all the needy who are not otherwise provided for."

The C. I. O., he declared, should push more vigorously for the adoption of the program.

Raps Federal Agencies.

Lewis devoted sections of his report to criticism of the defense commission's labor policy, the FBI, and other federal activities.

The C. I. O. leader disclosed nothing about the organization's membership or finances, pointing out that because of pending legal actions against the C. I. O. and its affiliates, he did not want to make public its financial reports.

With the stage set for his self-appointed retirement as C. I. O. president, a course he chose for himself if President Roosevelt were reëlected, Lewis reminded the delegates they were meeting in the same convention hall where the C. I. O. had its inception five years ago at an A. F. of L. convention.

The 1935 federation convention was where Lewis and a group of union leaders parted company with the A. F. of L. leadership in a disagreement over methods of organizing workers in the mass production industries.

Blames A. F. of L. for Split.

The Lewis report touched on the question of unity negotiations with the A. F. of L. by asserting that no valid objection has been put forward by the federation against Lewis' proposal that the A. F. of L. take in and charter the entire C. I. O. membership and that the issues of overlapping jurisdiction be settled later by the combined organization.

"Instead, illusive and hypocritical proposals have been made by the A. F. of L.," Lewis declared, "all of which [a] deny the basic principle of industrial organization in the mass production and basic industries; [b] accept only some of the C. I. O. unions after they have been carved up to the satisfaction of the A. F. of L., and [c] deny admission to certain C. I. O. unions whose membership would be admitted only after they had joined the appropriate A. F. of L. unions."

C. I. O. UNIONISTS BACK UP PICKETS AT VULTEE PLANT

Downey, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP).—Hundreds of C. I. O. unionists from the Los Angeles area attended a mass-meeting near the closed Vultee aircraft plant today in support of the United Automobile and Aircraft Workers' strike while two government men from Washington sought conferences in efforts to settle wage differences.

Maj. Sidney Simpson of the war department and Arnold Tolles of the department of labor commission arrived today. They immediately consulted two local federal conciliators and planned to confer with Vultee and union officials as soon as possible.

The strike of 3,000 production employés, asking a minimum wage of 75 cents instead of the present 50 cents, started Friday morning.

The company has on hand orders totaling more than $84,000,000 for military planes. While rainsoaked pickets walked about the plant, 17 basic training planes of the BT-13 type were delivered to the government without hindrance. Seventeen officials from Moffett Field went into the Vultee hangar, wheeled the planes out and took off.

3 lengths: short, medium and extra long . . . in sizes from 8 to 11. New smart shades

$1.15 3 PAIR $3.25

LATEX has the same sheer appearance as the finest 3-thread crepe stocking and feels firmer and smoother on the legs. They will not snag as readily as any other stocking.

LATEX is not a finish. It becomes one fabric with the silk and will not wash out.

LABOR MUST DO ITS DEFENSE JOB, SAYS DR. MILLIS

New Member of NLRB Favors Conciliation.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Defense measures need not necessarily increase the working day of the laboring man, but if an emergency requires a 10 or 12 hour day, American men should be willing to do their part.

This opinion was expressed yesterday by Dr. Harry A. Millis, professor emeritus of economics at the University of Chicago, long known as an authority on labor affairs, who is the new member of the National Labor Relations board.

Dr. Millis, who doesn't classify himself as a conservative altho accepting the general opinion that he isn't a radical, said in an interview that under ordinary circumstances 40 hours a week is long enough for any person to work.

It's Different If It's Fun.

He said it is different, however, if working is fun—as it is for him. He is more than willing to work 60 or 80 hours a week, he said.

But where work isn't fun, the worker is under a nervous strain and needs leisure," Dr. Millis said. "There is no reason why people should live merely to work. But when an emergency arises it is up to every one to buckle down and work whatever hours are needed. We may not come to that time here, however."

Dr. Millis said his labor experience has been as an arbitrator. He believes there are few labor problems that can't be solved if employer and employé will sit down together and try to do what is right.

Conciliators Held Main Need.

He said the country's greatest need, in relation to labor, is for conciliators —men who can settle labor problems without referring them to the NLRB. He and Dr. William M. Leiserson will constitute a majority of the board of three, the other member of which is Edwin S. Smith, known as a radical.

The chairmanship of the board is expected to go to Dr. Millis or Dr. Leiserson, and most officials in Washington, D. C., expect Dr. Millis to get the post. The chairman will be designated by President Roosevelt. The President appointed Dr. Millis to the board Friday. The appointment filled the vacancy created by the expiration last August of the term of J. Warren Madden, former chairman of the board.

Dr. Millis has no illusions that he can settle all of labor's troubles in Washington.

"It will not be up to us to apply philosophy to cases brought before us," he explained. "We must make decisions where complaints have been referred to us charging violations of the law. We can't apply arbitration. We can only apply the law to the facts."

Member of Old Labor Board.

Dr. Millis was a member of the labor board when it was a part of the NRA, which was abolished by a decision of the United States Supreme court. The board now is created under authority of the Wagner Labor act and its major function is to aid in bringing about collective bargaining, he explained.

He was asked to discuss other problems of labor, such as the rise of the racketeer into union control.

"Racketeering by union leaders usually appears in conjunction with racketeering by employers," he said. "It is possible only where the business men permit it to exist.

"Racketeering appears, too, in cases where labor leaders are too closely associated with local political leaders who all too frequently have racketeering ideas of their own.

"There is racketeering in politics and in business, so it is not surprising to find it in labor unions."

Cites Shortage of Trained Men.

Dr. Millis held that one of labor's greatest problems is the shortage of trained men for key positions. The need for foremen, managers, and superintendents is greater than the supply, he said, and there always is room at the top for the worker who wants to improve.

In his opinion the outlook for young men out of school and college is brighter for the future than it has been in the past.

Dr. Millis said inventions, new methods, modern improvements, and general progress give hope that there will be less unemployment in the future.

"But," he concluded, "people have not yet learned to live together in peace and to settle all their differences by discussion and arbitration and a real desire to be helpful to one another."

DIES AFTER SWALLOWING POISON.

George Ostertag, 60 years old, formerly of 26 East Huron street, died yesterday in Chicago State hospital after he swallowed poison which he took from a medical tray beside his bed. Physicians told police Ostertag had suffered from a heart ailment and that death might have resulted from the sudden exertion rather than the poison.

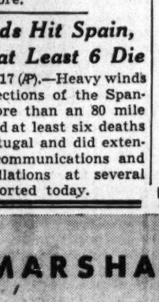
MYSTERY VEILS BRICK SLAYING OF DIVORCEE, 24

Champaign Recalls Reign of Terror.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 17 [Special].—Quiet Champaign-Urbana, home of the University of Illinois, buzzed today with speculation over the slaying last night of May Catherine Elliott, 24 years old, a divorcée.



May Catherine Elliott.

The body of the attractive young woman was found in a street side hedge in a residential district. Her clothing was in disarray and, authorities said, she had been raped.

One clew to the attack was a piece of brick found near a garage some 50 feet from the body. It was blood stained, police said, and they think it was the weapon employed.

Several Persons Quizzed.

Clyde Davis, chief of Champaign police, questioned several persons during the day and made a mysterious trip to Chanute field, army aviation school.

Townspeople recalled a reign of terror last June and July in which eight women were seized or chased by a bearded, wordless assailant. During the period many townspeople carried guns for protection.

On Halloween, Miss Elliott herself was seized at the same corner where last night she was found slain. She fought off her assailant and fled.

Mysterious Phone Call.

Her body was found after a mysterious telephone call informed the police that a girl was "lying in the bushes at Neil and Breadsley streets."

The victim was clothed in a fur coat, but her shoes and underwear were found a few feet away.

Police said the victim formerly lived with her mother, Mrs. Mayme Sickafus, in Decatur, Ill. She was graduated from Decatur High school and attended James Millikin university for a time. About a year ago she was divorced from Charles Bud Fitch, who now lives in Peoria. Recently she had been working as a clerk in a Champaign clothing store.

80 Mile Winds Hit Spain, Portugal; at Least 6 Die

MADRID, Nov. 17 (AP).—Heavy winds sweeping some sections of the Spanish coast at a more than an 80 mile an hour clip caused at least six deaths in Spain and Portugal and did extensive damage to communications and waterfront installations at several ports, it was reported today.

C. I. O. PROTESTS MEN DENIED JOBS AT CAMP GRANT

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 17 [Special].—Officials of the Rockford C. I. O. industrial council have filed a formal protest with Sidney Hillman, labor representative on the national defense advisory commission at Washington, charging that C. I. O. members are being refused employment on the $4,250,000 construction project at Camp Grant.

Forty members of the United Construction Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, have been refused jobs at the camp, according to Luther Cole, international representative of the union.

John Griffith & Sons, general contractors in charge of the project, announced yesterday the project will be operated on a 100 per cent A. F. of L. union basis.

Clarence Reilly, president of the C. I. O. council, said that neither the C. I. O. nor A. F. of L. building trades unions has enough members enrolled to supply more than 10 per cent of the 5,000 men to be employed on the project.

Official Exchange Rate Set for Franc and Mark

VICHY, Nov. 17.—Conclusion of a clearing agreement between France and Germany was announced by the ministry of finance today. It sets the rate between the franc and the mark at the same figure that has prevailed in the occupied regions of one mark to 20 francs [nominally about 2 cents per franc].

Weather Delays Delivery of 8 Bombers to Britain

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP).—Bad weather delayed until tomorrow the scheduled take-off of eight $100,000 Douglas attack bombers for New York en route for delivery to the British royal air force. Two other Douglas ships, 8A-5 attackers, left shortly after dawn for Toronto to join the royal Norwegian air force units now training in Canada. They are part of a 36 plane order.

Victim of Hatchet Attack Dies Despite 10 Tranfusions

Despite 10 blood transfusions, Mrs. Lillian Deering, 26 years old, of 1236 North Bell avenue, died yesterday in the Norwegian American hospital of head wounds incurred Oct. 9 when she was beaten with a hatchet by a porter in a bakery at 1020 North California avenue, where she worked as a clerk. Her assailant, Stanislau Horeszewski, 62, of 603 Adams street, said he attacked her because she owed him money and taunted him.

BIG FLYING BOAT ENDS ITS SURVEY FLIGHT TO CANAL

Begins Return Journey to U. S. Today.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Nov. 17.—Slipping thru showers and dipping down to slide 300 feet above the jungle and beaches of Guatemala and Honduras, the American Export airlines flying boat Transatlantic, late today completed the first half of its survey flight between New Orleans and the Canal Zone. Tomorrow at sunrise the twin motored plane will be headed back over the route from Cristobal to the United States.

The plane's round trip is the first part of a plan to open regular service for passengers and mail from Chicago to any point in Central America on a schedule of 15 hours' flying time.

Export air lines has filed application to open the service from New Orleans with a short cut over the Gulf of Mexico. This will bring Central America 24 hours closer than under the Chicago-New Orleans service hitherto provided by Chicago and South airlines.

Bounced by Mountain Winds.

While flying at low altitude today the ship was bounced around by strong northerly winds that buffeted the mile high mountains lining the Central American coasts. Nevertheless, the 850 miles from Belize, British Honduras, where the crew spent Saturday night, to Coco Solo, the naval air base here, was covered in 5 hours and 45 minutes, an average of 153 miles an hour.

Departure of the Consolidated flying boat from Belize this morning was delayed while Capt. Charles Blair, actively in charge of the plane, circled over the tiny flying field where TACA [Transportes Aereos Centro-Americans, Ltd.], a subsidiary company, has provided freight and passenger business for more than six years.

A Dictator Curbs Service.

Today there was no TACA plane in British Honduras and none has been able to fly in for a week. TACA has been barred from flying the international air service into or out of Guatemala, neighbor of British Honduras to the west and south.

In Belize some residents claimed the influence of Pan American airways, rival of Export airlines, was behind the sudden order given by President Jorge Ubico, the dictator who rules Guatemala, canceling TACA'S usual trips.

TACA, however, continues to fly chicle from the jungles of northern Guatemala to seaports for the William Wrigley chewing gum company.

Blair and his co-captain, Richard McMakin, decided that the Belize airport could easily be expanded to accommodate either twin or four motored land planes. Both airmen now believe the New Orleans-Canal Zone route should be flown by land planes. Such ships are able to avoid the delays and dangers that face flying boats when waves are high. They said they would recommend enlargement of this airport to their company.

Forced Down to 600 Feet.

Blair turned the flying boat down the Belize river to the sea and straight across the 200 mile jump to Trujillo, Honduras, despite constant rain squalls that forced the plane down to a level 600 feet above the water.

Blair swept past the town at an altitude of 300 feet, flashing thru curtains of tropical rain. The plane was still flying on what was left of the 1,650 gallons of gasoline taken aboard at New Orleans.

The Trans Atlantic then turned due south, avoiding the Mosquito gulf and the coast, to head straight for Coco Solo, 425 miles distant over open sea. The ship was encircled in gray mist and visibility was less than two miles. The sea and sky joined in a union unmarked by a horizon.

Cristobal was forewarned of the approach of the plane but the craft was kept circling for 25 minutes before permission to land was flashed to Blair. After he had landed, Blair was told that the delay was occasioned by efforts of the Pan American airways' representative to have the plane serviced at that company's hangar. The offer was refused.

CHEMICAL FIRM HIT BY ITS THIRD BLAST IN WEEK

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP).—An unexplained explosion, the third in a week in a plant of the American Cyanamid and Chemical corporation, today demolished half of one large building at the corporation's nearby Bridgeville works, injuring two men.

Oscar Luft, plant manager, said 100 to 150 workmen were in the company's Selden division works at Bridgeville, 25 of them in the shattered building when the blast let go at 9:40 a. m. [Chicago time].

The concussion ripped thru part of the main 600 by 100 foot building of the 65 acre chemical works, causing damage officially reported to county detectives at $250,000. Spokesmen said the corporation did not have national defense contracts.

Narrow Escape for Many.

Luft said it was surprising that many more of the workmen were not injured by the great chunks of falling steel and concrete that dropped amid terrific din.

The blast shook nearby houses, shattered windows of homes in the district, and toppled chimneys. It was followed by a small fire which was quickly extinguished by the company's own fire department.

Luft identified the injured as John Pinto, 45 years old, and Calvin Herron, 40. Pinto was treated for a dislocated shoulder and Herron for cuts and bruises.

The manager described the plant as one employing the catalytic oxidation of naphthalene process to manufacture phthalic anhydride, a raw material used in chemicals, especially for synthetic resins.

Previous Explosions.

A week ago today an explosion in the Calco chemical division of the corporation at Bound Brook, N. J., killed a plant superintendent and injured three workmen.

Last Tuesday an explosion of 1,000 pounds of dynamite in the corporation's plant near New Castle, Pa., 50 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, killed three workmen.

On the same day nine persons were killed in an explosion at the United Railway Signal company, Woodbridge, N. J., and three were killed in a blast at the Trojan Powder company plant near Allentown, Pa. Only the Trojan company was working on a government order.

BLAINE CUMMINGS IS SHOT IN ARM IN HUNTING MISHAP

Blaine Cummings, 264 Sunset avenue, Glen Ellyn, a former president of the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce, was wounded in the right forearm yesterday while hunting near Algonquin. His gun was discharged when he stumbled. Cummings is a district plant superintendent for the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

ITALIAN TANKS FLEE IN BATTLE FOR VITAL BASE

Believe Fall of Koritza Is Imminent.

Presba Greek forces are pursuing the enemy with bayonet and hand grenade. Greek victories are of the utmost importance. Heights captured yesterday overlook Koritza from such advantageous positions that swift developments may be expected."

Greek naval and air units, coöperating with the Greek land forces, bombarded and disorganized Fascist columns from the rear.

The ministry of home security reported that on Nov. 14-15 a Greek destroyer flotilla had steamed thru the Otranto channel into the Adriatic sea as far as the island of Sasseno, but sighted no Italian warships.

Two villages were bombed today and several others machine gunned, the Greeks said, but they reported no casualties or damage.

Fierce Fighting, Rome Reports.

ROME, Nov. 17 (AP).—Fierce attacks and counterattacks on the Greek front were reported by the Italian high command today, which said Italian aviation blasted at Greek roads, railways, troops, and artillery.

The fighting was admitted to be especially violent in the "9th army sector," believed here to be in the Koritza sector of Albania. Italian air attacks were said to have caused fires and explosions, interrupted communications, and created confusion in the Greek lines.

But one paragraph was devoted in the communique to the fighting in Greece, but its mention for the first time of "especially hard" fighting was regarded as significant.

The Italians made air attacks in the vicinity of Suda bay, on the island of Crete, where the British are reported to have concentrated an expeditionary force.

Drive Back Italians

Arrows locate Greek offensives which Athens reports carried its forces yesterday into Albania. Farther north Kicevo in Jugo-Slavia was bombed by planes of undetermined nationality.

UNION CONDEMNS NAVY YARD WAGE FOR MACHINISTS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 [Special]. — Representatives of Washington's 6,500 navy yard machinists at a mass meeting today condemned the prevailing wage scales. The minimum pay for first class machinists is $1.06 per hour.

Columbia lodge No. 174, International Association of Machinists, unanimously adopted a resolution of protest directed to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and the President. They asked reopening of wage considerations.

Reports gained circulation that a navy yard strike was planned. Emmet C. Davison, International secretary-treasurer, denied this with a denunciation of the navy's "brass hats."

It was declared to be the sense of the meeting, which was attended by 1,200 members, that "the responsibility of this regrettable award must rest with the constituted authority, who is the honorable secretary of the navy."

U. S. LINER REACHES SHANGHAI TO TAKE OUT 600 AMERICANS

SHANGHAI, Nov. 17 (AP).—The United States liner Washington arrived today to take aboard 600 homeward bound Americans leaving the orient on the advice of the state department in Washington.

The Washington, third and last of three vessels chartered to take out Americans, will leave Wednesday and will stop at Manila to take on some 700 more passengers. On the same day the liner President Taft will start for home, by way of Japan, with a full passenger list.

The Washington's passengers include 177 United States flyers en route to Manila.

TWIN INFANT FOUND DEAD.

Virginia Mary Lipomi, 8 months old, a twin, was found dead by her mother, Conetta, in her crib yesterday in their home at 151 South Albany avenue. Physicians said the baby suffered from a heart ailment.

REPORTERS BEGIN INSPECTION TOUR OF U. S. DEFENSES

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—At the invitation of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the army, 17 newspaper men today began a 10 day air inspection trip of defense developments in the United States.

Gen. Marshall.

Two army transports took the party on the first leg of the tour to Fort Knox, Ky., this afternoon. The group will spend tomorrow morning inspecting the mechanized brigade stationed at the fort, where the bulk of the nation's gold is kept.

Monday evening the party will reach Fort Sill, Okla., the site of the artillery school. Wednesday the 2d division, first of the new streamlined divisions, will be reviewed. Thanksgiving day and Nov. 22 will be spent in watching fledgling flyers go thru their paces at Randolph Field, Tex.

The tour will end Nov. 27 with the inspection of coast artillery at Fort Monroe, Va., and the air corps at Langley Field, Va.

During the trip the newspaper men, according to war department spokesmen, will be shown a complete cross section of the army.

Six Canadians Bail Out of Bomber; One Reports

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 17 (AP).—Five of six members of the crew of a royal Canadian air force bomber had not reported tonight after they abandoned the aircraft near East Lake, Que., last night. One of the pilots of the big twin engined bomber, U. J. H. Leblanc, wired air force headquarters today that the crew abandoned the aircraft and that he had made a safe landing by parachute. An intensive search for the men is under way.

BURGLARS LOOT HOME.

A fur coat and a muff, valued at $250, and $25 in cash were taken by burglars Saturday night from the home of Arthur Cohn at 8140 Maryland avenue, he reported to police yesterday.

EXPECT IL DUCE HIMSELF TO DENY BRITAIN'S CLAIMS

ROME, Nov. 17 (AP).—Premier Mussolini is expected to rebut British claims of great damage done to Italy's fleet in a sanctions day speech tomorrow which will remind Italians of the part England played in invoking league of nations penalties in the Ethiopian war.

Il Regime Fascista said he would "reply with unequivocal facts, beyond the power of denial, to all lies of English propaganda."

The paper's forecast indicated Il Duce himself would make public the general figures on Italian naval resources which have been expected since Nov. 14. At that time Fascists called British claims of having crippled three battleships and damaged four other warships in an air raid on Taranto "fantastic," and said a detailed account of the war situation in the Mediterranean would be given soon.

FLAMES SHOOT ABOVE HAMBURG IN BRITISH RAID

Flyers Bomb Industries and Port All Night.

LONDON, Nov. 18, Monday (AP).—A smashing, all-night British bombing raid on Hamburg—the second in as many nights—was declared by the British today to have left a path of flaming destruction Saturday night among Adolf Hitler's vital war industries in that greatest seaport in all Europe.

The assault with "tons of bombs" was by far the heaviest of a series of week-end blows reported in Britain's ever growing air and sea borne counteroffensive.

British bombers shuttling back and forth over Hamburg hit everything from the port's sprawling shipyards to industries turning out "synthetic but presumably edible fats," the air ministry announced.

More than 1,000 incendiary bombs and hundreds of high explosives were dropped on the railway freight yards in the Billwarder district alone, it added.

Oil Refineries Hit.

Simultaneously, other British bombers carried out blasting and fire-setting raids on Antwerp, Dunkirk, and airdromes in German occupied territory.

The royal air force also was reported to have attacked numerous objectives in the industrial Ruhr valley of Germany in overnight raids.

Preceding the night forays, British raiders engaged in Saturday daylight attacks on oil refineries at Cologne and Bremen and the Dortmund-Ems canal [in the Ruhr district]. In this "destructive tour," the British said air bases at Rouen, Abbeville, Arras, and Cambrai areas in France also were hard hit.

A communique this morning said: "Damage was practically confined to private houses, and reports received up to 7 a. m. indicated that neither damage nor casualties will prove heavy," the air ministry said.

Unsuccessful daylight raids yesterday cost the Germans 13 planes, the British said.

Nazi planes also were reported over two southwestern towns, northwestern England, and areas surrounding the capital.

The air ministry and ministry of home security said that five British fighting planes were shot down in air fights yesterday but that four of the pilots were safe.

Shelling at Dover.

German long range guns also shelled the Dover area from Cape Gris Nez and Calais, France, last night. The cannonading followed a large scale attack by British bombers on "incasion forts" on the channel.

Officials yesterday put the death toll in the Thursday night bombing of Coventry at 250 with the possibility more bodies will be found.

One bomb, falling in London, Sunday wrecked the home of Ellen Wilkinson, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of home security.

Admit Damage to Hamburg.

BERLIN, Nov. 17 (AP).—The British air force today caused military damage in a second successive before-dawn attack on the port of Hamburg, second city of Germany, the German high command acknowledged.

Fourteen persons were killed and many hurt in this and other raids on Bremen, Kiel naval base, and elsewhere.

The communique, speaking of Nazi aerial activities, claimed German planes had sunk an 8,000 ton freighter, another of 2,000 tons, and a 3,000 ton tanker, while two other freighters were seriously damaged and various British harbors were strewn with fresh mines.

Chosen by Students

Lucille Benetti and Bob Theobald dancing together.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 17 [Special].—Lucille Benetti, sophomore from Staunton, and Bob Theobald, sophomore from Bloomington, were recently elected the "ideal couple" at Illinois Wesleyan university here. Miss Benetti is a Sigma Alpha Iota. The two met for the first time when they posed for pictures. The contest was sponsored by the Wesleyans, university yearbook.

KILLED TRYING TO PLANT BOMB IN A BUILDING

Akron, O., Nov. 17 (AP).—Bombings on three construction jobs today killed a steam shovel worker and caused damage estimated at more than $3,500.

The body of Robert C. Floyd, 29 years old, with both his arms blown off, was found in the wreckage of one building. Police said the position of Floyd's body and his injuries indicated that he either was holding or setting off a bomb. They said he was an ex-convict.

The police were investigating the possibility that labor trouble might have been involved in the blasts, all in business buildings under construction.

ENDS LIFE WITH AUTO FUMES.

Perry Updike, 40 years old, 8754 South Claremont avenue, an electrical worker, was found dead of exhaust fumes, apparently a suicide, in his automobile behind his home yesterday. His mother told police he had been unemployed and ill.

LAST OF GABON SURRENDERS TO DE GAULLE FORCE

Report Port Gentil Taken Without Fight.

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—Port Gentil, second town in Gabon, French Equatorial Africa, has surrendered without fighting to the forces of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, headquarters of the "free" French forces in London announced today in a communique.

Arrow locates Port Gentil.

The fall of the town followed the recent surrender, after a battle, of the capital, Libreville. Port Gentil is at the mouth of the harbor on which Libreville is located.

De Gaulle Visits Libreville.

The communique said:

"The town of the port of Gentil, second port of Gabon, has surrendered without fighting, two days after Libreville, capital of the colony.

"The commander in chief of the French free forces received civil and military authorities at the governor's residence and afterward inspected the troops.

Civilians Unharmed.

"During his visit Gen. De Gaulle was glad to see for himself that no inhabitants of Libreville or its neighboring districts had been killed or wounded in the course of police [military] operations which resulted in the rallying of Gabon to the French free empire, according to the wishes of the population.

"Gen. De Gaulle also visited wounded soldiers of the French free forces and of units which were under orders of the Vichy government. The wounded fortunately are few."

The communique added that a large proportion of the French troops who had fought against De Gaulle's forces had asked to join them.

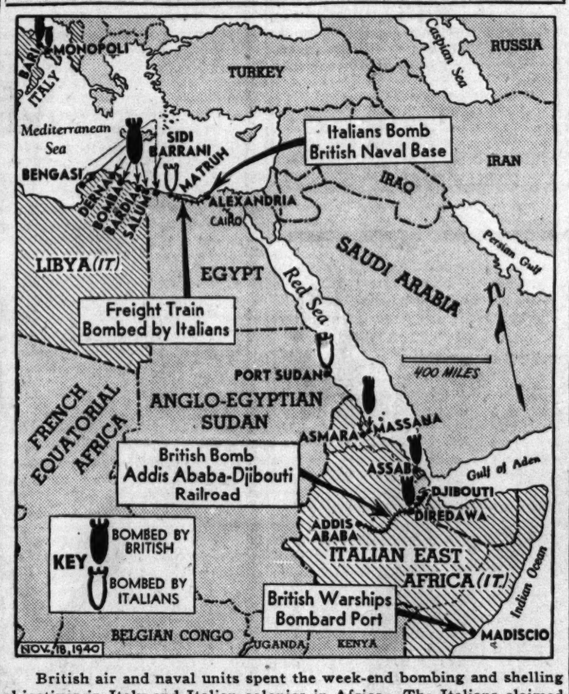
BURNING OF BOMB FACTORY IS LAID TO SABOTEURS

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP).—Fire today destroyed the small plant of the Pennsylvania Chemical company which was said to be working on a government order for incendiary bombs.

Michael Bozich owner of the plant, charged sabotage. He said the fire broke out in one end of the basement of the stone and frame building about 8:30 a. m. The 60 by 80 foot structure was located in an open field 200 yards off a highway and six miles southeast of Johnstown.

Bozich said he had an order to deliver bombs to the United States army at Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds Nov. 20. He asserted tests had proven his bombs, one pound in weight and 15 inches long, were three times more effective than any others in use.

War in Eastern Mediterranean



British air and naval units spent the week-end bombing and shelling objectives in Italy and Italian colonies in Africa. The Italians claimed to have bombed British objectives.

BRITISH BOMBARD ITALIAN PORT IN AFRICA FROM SEA

Addis Ababa Railway Attacked by Planes.

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—British light naval units today were reported to have bombarded Magadiscio, principal port of Italian Somaliland, scoring hits on shipping and targets ashore. The admiralty's account said Italian shore batteries fired back ineffectively and that the British suffered no losses.

At the same time the British air force raided five Italian key points in East Africa and Egypt, the Italian naval base at Bari, and Monopoli, where Rome reported three people were killed.

In three attacks Friday the important Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad in Italian Ethiopia was reported damaged. Altogether, nine raids were reported on Diredawa within the last week. Assab, port of Italian Eritrea, which the British have raided at least 70 times since Italy entered the war, also was attacked anew.

Trade Aerial Blows.

ROME, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Italian high command today told of widespread blasting by the British air force in which bombs were plastered on five key points in Libya and Egypt, three in East Africa, and two in Italy, at Bari and Monopoli, where it was said three persons were killed and "insignificant" damage done.

In turn, the Italians made air attacks on the British naval base at Alexandria, Egypt, and six other places in Africa.

A freight train of 30 cars was hit with bombs and machine gun bullets on the coastal railway between Matruh, advance British base, and Bir Amasin, the communique said.

Large Fires Started.

Fires also were reported started and serious damage done when other Italian airmen swooped upon barracks and about 30 motor vehicles at Alam El Islaguiya, 25 miles south of Sidi Barrani, Italian advance base in Egypt.

Large fires were declared started by bombings at El Bada and Maaten Bagush air fields, in Matruh defense works, and another raid was made on Port Sudan on the Red sea.

The British launched bombs "wildly" over Salum, Bardia, Derna, Bomba, and Bengasi, all in Egypt and Libya, and Decamere, Asmara, and Masawa in East Africa, the Italians said.

Germans from Bukovina Stream Thru Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 17.—Germans being repatriated to the reich from soviet occupied northern Bukovina are passing thru Hungary at the rate of four trainloads a day. The transfer of 45,000 Germans will take 22 days. Second and third class German railroad carriages are being used. Each train has a staff of physicians and nurses, as well as special facilities for caring for children.

HOFFMAN SETS 2 AIMS FOR U. OF C.: DYNAMIC ECONOMY, DEMOCRACY

Research facilities of the University of Chicago were called upon yesterday by Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker corporation and a university trustee, to accomplish two tasks as part of the national undertaking of strengthening and preserving democracy. These, Hoffman said, were to assist in building a dynamic American economy and disseminating education for a thoro understanding of democracy.

Paul G. Hoffman.

Mentioning the expenditure of billions for defense, Hoffman said in the first annual report of the university's Alumni Foundation that it was also important to "defend democracy from within." He said the university in the experimental field could contribute to building a dynamic rather than a static economy by opening up new industries, while independence, tolerance, and integrity must sustain democracy if it is to survive.

The report stated that the foundation's goal of $500,000 as an alumni gift on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the university was more than 55 per cent subscribed.

N. Y. PHYSICIAN FALLS TO DEATH FROM HOSPITAL

New York, Nov. 17 [Special].—Dr. Henry Thomas Lee, 68 years old, former head of the medical department of J. P. Morgan & Co., was killed today in a plunge from the eighth floor of Doctors hospital. Police said he either "jumped or fell" from the room he had occupied since June 2.

Relatives said Dr. Lee had suffered a nervous breakdown in February and had been despondent over the death of his second wife, the former Jessie Carlton Semple, who died on Oct. 14. A sister, Miss Mary Lee, recalled he had been well enough to go for a drive Saturday.

Dr. Lee was a native of New York. He retired in 1937.

34th of 38 British Ships Attacked by Nazis in Port

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—The battered tanker San Marina pulled into a British port today, accounting for 34 of the 38 vessels in a convoy scattered in mid-Atlantic by a German raider early this month. Four of the vessels in the convoy, defended by the H. M. S. Jervis Bay until she went to the bottom, are known to be lost. The San Marina was set afire and abandoned. Sixteen crew members drifted in a lifeboat for 36 hours and finally reboarded the tanker and put out the fire. Then they steered her to safety. All except four crew members were saved.

NAZIS POOH-POOH BRITISH CLAIMS ON BERLIN RAIDS

Rail Stations Still Stand, Reporters Shown.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Gen. Hubert Weise, chief of Berlin's air defense, today denied, in clipped, Prussian tones, British claims that they had destroyed Berlin railroad stations. Addressing the foreign press, he referred scathingly to what he called the English effort to "make the English people believe the R. A. F. scored successes on Berlin railroad stations."

Earlier in the day the foreign reporters had been taken to some of the stations supposedly damaged. Station masters asserted that nowhere had sufficient damage been done to interfere seriously with railroad service. The press was not taken to the Stettiner station nor did Gen. Weise refer to it in his speech, which the press was requested not to interrupt with questions.

Near Schleischer station, the official admitted that a bomb had hit a truck but that it "took only an hour and three-quarters to restore the damage done."

Bridge Is Struck.

The large Lehrter station terminal was nearly hit several weeks ago. A nearby bridge was hit, but the bomb only damaged the paving and pockmarked the steel ramps of the bridge. Several sheds were unroofed by other bombs dropped in the vicinity. The damage shown was slight. Unescorted callers at the various stations confirmed the German assertion that no station had "been pulverized by British bombs."

Berlin's habits of life are undergoing big changes under the influence of the British air raids. Night life now starts at what used to be tea dance or cocktail party time, with the opera, movies, operettas, and theaters starting often as early as 5 p. m. Speed has become an important factor on the stage, since efforts are made to get the theatergoers on their way home by 8 o'clock, or before the R. A. F. planes are expected in the German capital.

They Store Up Sleep.

November used to be the big month for dinner invitations. Those who craved social importance would invite their most prominent acquaintances for the traditional veal roast dinner. Food rationing has curtailed menus, and the danger of having to spend long hours in after dinner conversation during an air raid has added to the reluctance of hostesses to invite dinner guests.

Everybody gets home early to catch up on sleep or, if the British have not been here for several nights, to have a plentiful reserve in case a new air raid takes place.

Upside Down

American flag flying upside down on top of the city hall yesterday.

Passersby in the loop stared yesterday at the American flag waving upside down in the wind on top of the city hall-county building. The flag remained that way for several hours until changed shortly before noon by John Quinn, city hall watchman, who said the flag was on the city hall side of the building. He said the flag ropes had become twisted in the wind.

WIRE TAPPING USED AGAINST WIRE TAPPERS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—Senator Tom Stewart [D., Tenn.] disclosed today that wire tapping was used to gather the evidence against alleged wire tappers which will be presented before a special senate committee at public hearings beginning here tomorrow.

The chairman of the special senate committee to investigate wire tapping said this evidence indicated that some one had listened in on telephones of justices of the Supreme court in 1938 but added: "This is an assumption."

Stewart said witnesses at the hearing would include Robert C. La Borde of New York, Capt. Barney Dowd of the New York police department and former head of detectives working under District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, and investigators for the telephone company and metropolitan police in New York City.

The senator and William P. Maloney, committee counsel, said the evidence would show "widespread wire tapping in New York City and Washington was a regular business."

LINE SIX AGAINST WALL, CART OFF SAFE WITH $1,200

Four bandits carried away a safe containing $1,000 to $1,200 yesterday from a café at 1316 Madison street. The robber accosted William Linberres, bartender, as he returned to the café after driving the manager, Daniel Lardiss, to his home at 214 South California avenue. Then, forcing their way into the restaurant with drawn revolvers, they lined up Linberres, two other bartenders, and three colored porters against the wall, rolled the safe out the door, into their automobile, and sped away. The safe contained the proceeds of Saturday night's business.

U.S. PATROL SHIPS NEAR WHEN NAZIS SCUTTLED BOAT

Hint They Were Mistaken for Foe Off Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17 (AP).—Informed sources said tonight they believed three United States warships off the port of Tampico were the "enemy" ships which caused one German merchant captain to scuttle his ship and three other vessels to scamper back into the refuge of Tampico, where they have been marooned since the war began.

The three United States warships were sighted recently by the Mexican gunboat Queretaro a few miles off Tampico, these sources said.

On Patrol When Nazis Fled.

Unconfirmed reports from Tampico said that units of the United States neutrality patrol Friday night—when the Nazi ships attempted their vain dash to open sea were signaling the British freighter Olivebank, which had been loading lead and was about to be escorted from Tampico thru the neutrality zone by the American vessels.

Nationality of the warships which frightened the German captains never has been definitely established, but the German captains said they believed them to be British.

Misinterpreted Signals.

Tampico reports indicated the Germans, who said they were signaled by the warships to surrender, erroneously interpreted the signals. In support of that theory, it was pointed out by the Tampico reports that the weather was cloudy Friday night.

Capt. J. Schurt of the German freighter Phrygia ordered his ship scuttled because he believed he was about to be captured.

The other three Nazi vessels, the Idarwald, Rhein, and Orinoco, regained Tampico harbor, and Capt. H. Fromke of the Idarwald reported he had been "chased" to within two miles of port by a destroyer resembling one of the 50 obsolete types recently transferred by the United States to Britain.

PARLEY OF AXIS FOREIGN CHIEFS REPORTED CALLED

Expect Spain to Join in Talks at Vienna.

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 17 (AP).—Germany and Italy were reported tonight to have called an important conference at Vienna which some diplomatic sources said might lay the final plans for a double-headed axis move—one against Gibraltar and the other toward Greece and Turkey. There was no word as to when the meeting would be held.

Foreign Minister Serrano Suner.

It was said the conferees would include Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany, Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy, and Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner of Spain, as well as General Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, and Marshal Pietro Badoglio, chief of the Italian army general staff. It was announced in Rome that Count Ciano already is on the way to Germany.

Soldiers Already Conferring.

The two marshals already have been conferring at Innsbruck, Germany, in what axis sources described as a "thoro review" of the possibility of German army coöperation with the Italians in the Balkans.

The Vienna meeting, it was said, would enable the axis diplomats to tell the axis generalissimos how much help they could expect from "friendly" countries in any move toward Gibraltar on the west or the Aegean sea and the Dardanelles on the east.

Earlier reports from Vienna had said that a southeastern conference including Hungary, Rumania, and Slovakia would be held in that city "with the next few days."

Spanish Official to Confer.

BERLIN, Nov. 17 (AP).—The informed commentary Dienst aus Deutschland, with foreign office connections, declared tonight Nazi leaders would confer shortly with Spain's foreign minister, Ramon Serrano Suner, in the next move of a series of political steps involving the destiny of Europe, Africa, and Asia.

Referring to the recent visit to Berlin of Russia's premier and foreign commissar, Vyacheslav Molotov, the commentary said it was reported that "within the shortest time other political actions by Germany and Italy would follow the German-Russian conversations."

Laval Reports on Talk.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Nov. 17.—Vice Premier Pierre Laval returned to Vichy from Paris today after a two day sojourn in which he had a long talk with Ramon Serrano Suner, foreign minister of Spain. Laval reported to Marshal Petain, chief of state, on his talk with Serrano Suner, which, it is understood, mostly concerned Spanish moves in Morocco, particularly abolishment of the international statute of Tangier. Unrest has been manifested in French Morocco over this action.

Report Norse Told to Curb Student Fight on Quisling

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 17.—Demonstrations by Norwegian school children against Maj. Vidkun Quisling's rule of Norway have assumed such proportions, it is reported here, that Norwegian authorities have instructed directors of high schools to expel pupils showing a provocative attitude. Young Norwegians are said to have beaten pupils belonging to the Quisling youth organization, who have been authorized to wear uniforms.

ALL FRANCE GIVES TO HELP NEEDY IN 'WORST WINTER'

Petain Pictures Sold; Old Goods Collected.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Nov. 17.—The French nation today took steps to confront the rigors of what will perhaps be its hardest winter of a century.

In all towns of both free and occupied France photographs of Marshal Henri Petain, chief of state, were sold by women, girls and members of youth organizations. The receipts went into a fund for winter help for prisoners, refugees and unemployed persons.

A campaign also was opened to mobilize old clothes, shoes, blankets, kitchen utensils, and other used materials for distribution to the needy. Youths with carts and wagons solicited contributions everywhere in response to an appeal made by Marshal Petain. The goods will be given to prisoners and refugees.

New Ration Plan in Effect.

The beginning of winter finds the French in a serious but perhaps not a desperate situation, for various schemes for rationing and fair division of supplies are being carried out. On this side of the occupied zone new ration tickets went into effect today. Books of tickets were issued to cover the period until Dec. 31.

They accord to every adult about 12.3 ounces of bread a day, 3.5 ounces of fat a week, and 12.7 ounces of red meat a week. Meat may not be served at restaurants for the evening meal, and for lunch only on four days weekly. Poultry, heretofore not rationed, will be served in restaurants and sold in food stores three days weekly.

Vegetables until recently were not subject to control, but from now on potatoes can be obtained only by presenting ration tickets.

Tickets Clipped in Restaurants.

Restaurant menus now state not only the price of each item but how many ration tickets are required, and a new functionary passes among the diners with scissors and clips the ration tickets.

Between principle and practice there is a gulf, and most people know of restaurants in which the ration rules are not strictly enforced. Conspicuous restaurants, however, enforce the regulations rigidly.

M. Achard, secretary of state for supplies, is tightening ration controls to prevent abuses. He has announced a regulation to prevent people going to the country to buy from producers and ordered strict control of food distributions at night.

Regulations also attempt to fix uniform prices for food in all districts of France. One problem is not to lower production by fixing prices to the extent that the peasants get no profit and refuse to work.

Reserve Supplies Shrink.

Outside of food and primary consumption goods, the French are living on reserves and inventories are being taken to see how long these reserves will last. Nothing is being manufactured and stores' stocks of manufactured goods are being depleted. Many textile products, shoes, and similar goods are lacking. Standard drug products and de luxe merchandise are scarce or altogether lacking. Soap may not be sold till next month, and then on limited ration tickets.

Trade with areas outside of France is going on. New trade arrangements have been made with the Swiss and the Swiss have agreed to evaluate the French franc at what amounts to 43 francs to the dollar. Figures have been issued showing that considerable supplies are reaching this country from the African colonies. Between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15, official reports show, 200,000 tons of soap ingredients, phosphates, wine, and food products were unloaded.

JAPS REPORT U. S. TRIES TO FORCE PACT FROM SIAM.

TOKIO, Nov. 18 [Monday] (AP).—All Japanese newspapers today featured reports from Bangkok, Thailand [Siam], claiming that the United States and Britain were putting pressure on Thailand's government to conclude a triple assistance pact.

These reports said the United States and Britain had threatened to suspend oil and munitions shipments if Thailand refused to agree to a pact, and an economic blockade if Thailand abandoned her neutrality.

Britain and the United States offered economic aid in Thailand's campaign to obtain territory from French Indo-China, and military support—British troops and American warships—if a foreign power attacks Thailand, the reports said.

The proposition was said to have been presented by the British minister on Thursday and Thailand is expected to reply soon.

Border Clashes Increase.

VICHY, France, Nov. 17 (AP).—Dispatches from Hanoi, French Indo-China today said local border clashes with Thailand [Siam] had increased and that negotiations on Thailand's territorial claims had reached a dead end. Thailand troops were reported increasing in number along the frontier.

DECLARES NAZIS MAY BUILD WAR PLANTS IN RUSSIA

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP).—The diplomatic correspondent of the Sunday Times reported today that Russia is viewing "not unfavorably" what he said was a German proposal to set up Nazi war industries in soviet centers beyond the range of British bombers.

"There is reason to believe Germany, alarmed by interference caused by R. A. F. raids with her armament, aircraft, and naval production, proposes to set up naval shipyards, particularly for submarines, and airplane factories in Russia," the correspondent wrote.

Under this arrangement, he asserted, Germany thus would have a "Canada of her own" as a source of supplies.

W-G-N RESUMING SERIES HONORING FUTURE CITIZENS

Marshall High Pupils Tomorrow's Guests.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The W-G-N program dedicated to the youth of the nation, Citizens of Tomorrow, will start its 1940-'41 series at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow. The programs will display the talent of Chicagoland high school students and will be sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, as they were last spring.

Philip Maxwell of THE TRIBUNE'S editorial staff again will enact the rôle of the school principal. He will conduct THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE news quiz with students from the audience taking part. Winners will receive $5 bills.

Dorothy Gregory to Return.

Dorothy Gregory, 17 year old Maine Township graduate of last June, will be heard again as Jerry, a typical high school girl. Auditions will be held today for the rôle of typical high school boy. Blair Walliser will direct the programs as before.

Marshall High school of Chicago will be featured on the first broadcast. Six hundred boys and girls from the school will fill W-G-N's No. 1 studio. The school cheer leaders and chorus are to participate. Miss Edith Wines, choral director, will lead the singing. George Beers, principal, will speak.

School Officials to Attend.

Special guests at the opening broadcast will include Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of Chicago public schools; Noble J. Puffer, superintendent of Cook county schools, and Dr. Helen Howe, director of music for the Chicago public schools.

The board of education, the county school system, the school board of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago and other educational bodies will cooperate.

The Citizens of Tomorrow honor roll will be renewed.

INFANT INDUSTRIES BORN OF WAR.

The Napoleonic wars stimulated American manufactures. Because we were cut off from many of the old world sources of supply we were encouraged to produce factory goods here which formerly we had imported.

Something like that is happening now in this country. Once again war is serving like a protective tariff to push this country toward self-sufficiency. For example, from France we were accustomed to importing fashions and many of the luxury textiles required to produce them. Now an American fashion industry is arising, as the recent contest organized by this newspaper amply demonstrated, and American-loomed textiles are being substituted for many which formerly were imported.

A beginning is being made in the smelting of tin in this country, an industry which formerly was all but a British monopoly. Because Amsterdam has been cut off from South Africa and from the United States we can no longer look to Holland as the principal source of our supply of cut diamonds; a diamond cutting industry is rising in America. We no longer are dependent upon Germany for toys; the American market is now very largely supplied from domestic factories and workshops. By sheer necessity we have been forced to find domestic substitutes for the things we formerly bought in large volume from Europe, such as chinaware, glassware, fine cutlery, gloves, food specialties, and optical goods. As the war continues it is to be expected that the quality of home produced goods will rise.

Our trade with Britain continues and we have not been under the necessity of finding substitutes for most of the products which we have been accustomed to import from that source. Unless the German effort to blockade Britain becomes much more effective than it has been thus far, we can probably count upon regular receipts of such characteristic British goods as wool, cotton, and linen textiles and threads, chinaware, whiskys, cutlery, and some leathers, to mention a few of them. It is to Britain's interest to send as much as she can to this country to pay for war materials and it is to the interest of this country to accept as much as possible to balance the account.

So far as the continent is concerned, the British blockade has cut off our supplies and to that extent has opened the door wide to domestic enterprises. Some of the new industries being established here will no doubt feel the effects of sharp competition once peace is restored. The same thing happened at the close of our revolutionary war when new American industries were hard hit by the efforts of Europe to regain her markets here. Our first tariff act was intended to protect the new industries from the fierce competition which followed the peace, and it is a noteworthy fact that the industries for the most part survived.

As a result of the present war, America is progressing toward national self-sufficiency. Whether that is a good thing or a bad thing will be debated by economists, but good or bad, it is happening and the longer the war lasts the more certain it is that we shall progress in that direction.

The war has meant a supertariff for this country, a tariff more effective as a stimulant to domestic enterprise than the highest schedules ever enacted by a protectionist congress. It is more effective than the devaluations by foreign countries proved to be in the middle years of the depression. America is on the road to self-sufficiency to a degree never before reached in our history.

EVICTION IN LORRAINE.

New misfortunes have descended upon the French speaking citizens of Lorraine. The Germans gave them their choice of being removed to Poland or to unoccupied portions of France. Some of them are descendants of Polish families, settled in Lorraine in the 18th century. Ninety-eight per cent of the persons to be evicted chose France and 2 per cent preferred to be replanted in the land of their Polish ancestors.

This war has developed a feature of more ancient wars in that it is followed by a land occupying movement. Populations which have been conquered or which have been traded in a division of spoils are moved off their lands and out of their homes and away from their occupations. The invader moves in and takes possession. The places of the evicted Lorrainers are taken by Germans from the Saar and other regions in which it is thought desirable to thin out the population.

When Hitler allowed Stalin to take the Baltic provinces he uprooted the German speaking Balts, shifting them back into occupied Poland and into Germany. The Poles were moved off the most desirable parts of their land. There was a shift in the Rumanian population to permit Russians and Germans to enter, and now the Lorrainers are torn away from their soil to face the hardships of readjustment, with their occupations gone, their land gone, and most of their goods and money gone.

There is a German theory that this surgery will be of long-run benefit because it will produce homogeneous areas where there have been indigestible and quarrelsome minorities. That theory, however, takes second place to the older one, that to the victors belongs the spoils.

The undertaking of the Vichy government to get an understanding with Nazi Germany and bring France into line with the new order of things in Europe undoubtedly gets a setback in French public opinion, and Gen. de Gaulle's irreconcilable contingent, now fighting in Africa, probably will rate higher in the French sympathies. De Gaulle has thrown himself and his followers into the war in the hope of a British victory by which, alone, France can recover what it has lost and be itself again. A new illustration of the miseries of defeat may put the Petain government out of countenance.

THE CITIZEN AND HIS DAY IN COURT.

Senator Barkley consented some time ago to call up the Walter-Logan bill in this week of November. The house has passed it by a vote of 282 to 97 and, what's more, the senate itself passed it last year, unanimously. The trouble there was that Barkley and Minton asked for a reconsideration of the vote, and the bill was dead for that session.

The Walter-Logan bill corrects the administrative law which has become so powerful under the new burocracy by giving the citizen his day in court. If he thinks a rule of administrative procedure is injurious and without legal authority, he can ask for a judicial review. He will still have the courts between him and administrators who have been and likely will be arbitrary.

That's an old principle of our government and there never has been much honest argument against it. It was supposed to be a distinguishing feature of a government described as one of laws and not of men. It was thought to be an inalienable right of the citizen in a dispute with administrative government to appeal to the courts.

The powerful new burocracy doesn't like it and it asserts a doctrine that is natural to dictatorship, which is that you can't get things done if you are forever in litigation. A headstrong burocracy, whether it is right or wrong, is in a hurry and it can't listen to the arguments of citizens about their legal rights when it issues its orders. We have never before been in such a hurry that we couldn't give a citizen the right to take his appeal to a court of justice.

One of the reasons for the Walter-Logan bill was found in the administration of the Wagner labor act, for which amendments are pending in congress. The appointment of Dr. Harry A. Millis to succeed J. Warren Madden as chairman of that board has been followed by the resignations of the secretary, Nathan Witt; Thomas I. Emmerson, associate general counsel, and Alexander B. Hawes, the chief administrative examiner. These men were regarded as largely responsible for the arbitrary conduct in the administration of the law, and there is some expectation that there will be an improvement, but here, again, without the amendment of the law itself and without the Walter-Logan bill, the question is one of men and not of law. If the law protects the citizen, men may change but the guaranty of justice does not.

The opposition to the Walter-Logan bill is evidence that the administrative government wants a free, loose hand to do as it pleases, and that is a surrender of the principles upon which this country was founded. Both houses of congress at one time or another have passed the bill and the previous votes really represent the convictions of most of the members. If the bill fails in the senate this time it is because of pressure exerted by the executives.

THE LIBERAL EDITORS HURT THEIR HEADS.

John T. Flynn, whose "Country Squire in the White House" was published for TRIBUNE readers in the closing days of the campaign, has disappeared from the columns of the New York liberal journal of opinion to which he had been a contributor for many years. Mr. Flynn's last article discussed the war hysteria released in Washington to scare the people into forgetting all their domestic troubles and cover up the New Deal's serious difficulties.

"The President began a fire as soon as the war started," Mr. Flynn wrote. "He gave out alarms about spies. He had the attorney general go on the screen and call on the people to notify the department of suspicious persons. A spy alarm from the President is a thousand times more effective than one from any one else. He notified the country of submarines off our coast. He made speeches describing how Hitler could come here by air."

Whatever difference of opinion there may be regarding Mr. Flynn's conclusions there can be no dispute as to his facts. All that he says and more was done. Various people will have varying ideas why it was done. Mr. Flynn's editors tagged his writer's opinion as "nonsense" and dropped his column. Mr. Flynn is invited to contribute articles on the evils of Wall street and the virtues of the SEC when he can find time and material, but as a wide range commentator on political issues he is out. Too frequently he "collided head on with the views of the editors."

There is no reason why the editors should not protect their heads. They are not required to pay some one for writing them down or showing them up. They are paying the printing bill. But the neat thing about the Flynn episode is that the liberal editors of the little journals do not believe that their more secular and more prosperous brethren in the larger field have any such rights. When a particularly nonsensical piece by Dorothy Boadicea Thompson was left out of some of her papers the readers of the little journals would have thought the freedom of the press was in its last gasp.

A NEW UNDERGROUND RAILWAY.

[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

The evil famed Nazi gestapo has been unable to check a modern version of the underground railway operating by automobiles, canal boats, on foot on mountain roads across the Pyrenees, and even by airplanes to hasten beyond the Nazi reach men and women bearing a price on their heads because they wrote or spoke with bitter truth concerning Hitlerism.

Not long ago Lion Feuchtwanger turned up, a fugitive from France. About 20 other German writers, including Franz Werfel, author of "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh," have reached the United States. Most of them were saved by the new underground railway, operated by men and women whose chances won't be worth talking about if the gestapo catches up with them.

They know it, too, but have gone thru with their dangerous work without counting the cost—a thing for Hitler and Himmler and their ilk, with all their faith in ruthlessness, to think about.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

PORTRAIT PAR LUI-MEME.

[Written at the request of numerous contributors.]

His correct title is Linemaster the First. All of his predecessors called themselves column conductors. His vital statistics may be learned by consulting a well known book of reference. His greatest asset is a sense of curiosity, and he believes that all aspirants to a career in journalism should be tested for this sense before being permitted to hand a piece of copy to a printer.

He has spent most of his life indoors, dreaming of the out-of-doors. He intended, at various times, to become a forester, a mining engineer, a war correspondent, and a literary mariner like Joseph Conrad; but he found that there are as many adventures to be had inside Chicago's loop as anywhere else in the world.

He likes solitude, but has spent much of his life in crowds. He ridiculed suburban life for 25 years, and then moved to Evanston, where he is a 10 year man. He lived on the south side in the era of its greatness, and in the Wilson avenue district before it became Uptown, and in Edgewater before the flat buildings ran up to 15 stories. His general drift appears to be northward, and in time he may succeed in escaping from Cook county.

He is a survivor of several catastrophes—the foundering of the Inter Ocean, the wasting paralysis of the drama, the decay of individualism in American life, and the abolition of football at the University of Chicago. He chases no bandwagons, and seldom turns from his path to meet a celebrity. His forebears have been Americans since 1740 on one side and 1660 on the other; and for five generations they have been of the middle west.

His personal appearance, in earlier years, was once described by Ben Hecht as bearing a strong resemblance to Raffles, the gentleman burglar of English fiction.

A STITCH IN THREE-QUARTER TIME.

Knit one—purl one—
Drop a stitch and twirl one—
See the nimble needles knitting row on rigid row!
Count one—skip one—
Smile a bit and slip one—

Green one—gold one—
An easy stitch—an old one—
Tantalizing Tam O'Shanter for a tiny tot!
Here's a gay one—
Vivid red and gray one—

Orange one—white one—
Brilliant hued and bright one—
Dare one—dream one—
Here's a lovely cream one—

Knit one—purl one—
Wind the ball and whirl one—
Keep the needles knitting to a titillating tune!
Rose one—tan one—
Sure-to-get-your-man one—
Sister, start your knitting now—the Yuletide's coming soon!

Turn Backward, O Time.

What was doing in Chicago in 1852? Well, for one thing, THE TRIBUNE published an evening as well as a morning edition six days in the week. It also published a weekly edition.

In 1889 Chicago had 13 daily newspapers. They were: [Morning] THE TRIBUNE, Herald, Times, Inter Ocean, News, Globe, Staats-Zeitung, Freie-Press; [evening] the Journal, News, Mail, Arbeiter-Zeitung, Freie-Press.

Let him who seeks but has not fully found
Democracy within the hearts or deeds
Of living men or in their ancient creeds,
Consider this still room—these volumes, bound
In varied dress. Facetious and profund
Stand side by side. Adjacent to those screeds
A Bible waits to answer human needs
And there the poets' mysteries propound.

May mingle or remain aloof. Here finds
The searcher shining truth. The subtle jest
In that old tome has gained an added zest.
Democracy reveres the yellowing page

Self-Portraits by Contribs.

My biography has nothing in common with the harassed railroader who merely serves as my Edgar Bergen when he should be tending his own affairs; the less said of him the better. A venerable urchin, I was born yesterday, ages ago, happily and cynically laughing and weeping at the cheerful tragedy of existence. Ever since, mockingly and earnestly, I have sung the optimistically pessimistic songs of all that has been and is to be; the desolate gayety of a mad yet orderly universe, confident and doubtful that all will yet be well—perhaps. Serious tho jesting, childlike and innocent with the world weariness of centuries, what more need be said of the ancient cherub known as

PERSISTENT CHRONIC HIVES.

THERE are occasions when we will be obliged to combat an attack of hives and we can trace the siege to something that has been eaten. Our greatest sympathy goes out to those victims of allergy [sensitivity] who are forced to consume dishes, the character of which they are unaware. The one who reacts to seafoods, and who is able to avoid these products at home, may face a severe bout because some tasty mixture contains lobster, crabmeat, or oysters.

Now and then hives may become chronic. In fact, freedom from symptoms may come only at brief intervals. In such cases not only is the disorder embarrassing but it may give rise to intense itching. Moreover, the face may "puff up" until the features become unrecognizable.

In a recent study, I. S. Kahn notes that most of these individuals suffer from low blood pressure and slight digestive disturbances. The majority are somewhat below the general standard of good health. Despite skilled medical care, including such remedies as calcium, hormones, and vitamins, no improvement may be observed. The inference seems to be clear—namely, that these persons are encountering repeated insults powerful enough to keep the blood vessels and nerves in a state of constant agitation.

In an effort to solve the problem, first of all, infections, if present, must be removed. Such areas as the teeth, tonsils, and sinuses are investigated thoroly. Then comes a food study of everything that is taken by mouth. The tests are made by injecting between the layers of the skin extracts of all edibles. Should signs of redness appear and persist for 24 hours, the causative material is placed on the prohibited list.

In the meantime, until a dietary schedule can be reconstructed, commonly recognized items known to be offenders, are omitted from the menus. Numbered among these culprits are eggs, chocolate, nuts, honey, shellfish, and uncooked fruits and vegetables. The patients are placed on a relatively limited regimen, which comprises tea and coffee [with cream], Melba toast, baked potatoes, tapioca, all meats except fresh pork, and cooked vegetables. Stewed fruits are allowed freely, altho prunes and pears are preferred. On this rather narrow range many sufferers will recover rapidly. Occasionally, however, one will be found who cannot handle wheat at all. In all such cases, toast must be excluded.

Later, it may be that tolerance to some of the substances that proved irritating may be established. For example, a very small amount may be taken for a week or more. If no skin lesions follow the quantity is increased gradually. If it becomes necessary to employ bread substitutes, potato flour or tapioca will suffice. Other cereals, such as oats, rye, or barley, do not seem to produce good effects.

At the outset, some of the patients show a rather striking loss of weight but sugars and fats are well borne. In addition, avocado, banana, cream, and butter may supply nourishment and restore poundage to normal.

A 7 year old child afflicted with giant hives responded in a week to the omission of oranges, grapefruit, and lemons. These fruits were the only pernicious influence in his young life.

The success of the elimination plan may be ascribed to grit and determination to be rid of this most annoying condition.

PITUITARY GLAND.

J. U. writes: Does the pituitary gland affect the nervous system? Would injections help?

REPLY.

This gland is called the "master" of the body. Its behavior influences the thyroid, the adrenals, and many other structures. It governs growth, sexual development, the contraction of certain types of muscles, and exercises parental control over the production of some of the hormones. Extracts should be administered only if signs of deficiency on the part of the gland can be identified. There is no essential relationship to nervousness.

CYST BEHIND EAR.

I. V. writes: Is a cyst the size of a hazelnut located directly back of the ear dangerous? There is no pain. It gets larger each year. Should it be removed?

REPLY.

This is probably a sebaceous cyst filled with cheesy material. If let alone, it may increase in size. Removal is advised at some convenient interval.

DISPLAY THE FLAG!

Manitowoc, Wis., Nov. 15.—The strength of a nation lies not so much in its armaments and munitions as in the kind and quality of its people—their sincere and unabated loyalty and devotion to God and country. The fire of true patriotism must ever be kept burning in the hearts of the people and we must see to it that it continues to burn with an ever increasing intensity—never must we permit it to smolder or go out. This is a solemn duty we owe to ourselves and to coming generations.

With these thoughts in mind and to further the cause, the Knights of Pythias of Manitowoc has adopted a resolution requesting "all organizations thruout the state and nation, including churches, schools, homes, and business places, to properly display and salute the flag upon every possible occasion, both publicly and privately, so as to promote and create a better, more universal, and more enthusiastic loyalty to and understanding of the flag of our country and all that it symbolizes."

ALBERT H. SCHMIDT,
Judge, Manitowoc.

CITY NEEDS SUBURBANITES.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—The people of Chicago appreciate the efforts of the suburbanites who helped to compose an honest election. However, if Chicago is to improve or even to hold her own, she must have citizens who can vote at city elections.

The suburbanites earn, or have earned, their money in Chicago. Why don't they come back to live in Chicago or, at least, establish a legal residence here? If the prosperity of Chicago declines, their wealth also will decrease.

Many are leaving this city for the suburbs; thus the value of real estate goes down and the school population dwindles. What the city needs is an influx of thousands of civic-minded citizens who will live here, vote and set up an upright city government so that Chicago's fine name may be redeemed and she may rise to a position of eminence among the cities of the world.

BISHOP RANDALL EXPLAINS.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Some days ago I allowed the use of my name in connection with an opinion expressed by several ministers adverse to sending food to the dominated countries of Europe. My fear was that an attempt to send food would lead to complications with England, and that if food was sent it probably would be confiscated by the Nazi government, and never reach the people for whom it was intended. I think some of the criticisms which this letter has engendered have read into it more than was intended.

In the last issue of the Christian Century this whole matter was discussed, and a very constructive suggestion was made as to the possible procedure which might be followed in sending food to the people in these various countries. I want to say that if such a plan could be worked out, I would be only too glad to give it my hearty coöperation.

EDWIN J. RANDALL.

WAITING FOR ELECTION PAY.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—I am one of the canvassers for the election board who more than a month ago worked three days for one day's pay, and I am still waiting for my pay. When I called the county controler's office on three separate occasions these were the replies I received:

1. "We are paying canvassers next week." 2. "The checks are being prepared now and will be in the mail tonight." 3. "We don't know when we will pay. It may be a month or two." Bang! the receiver goes up.

I worked for the general election as judge and we were not paid for that either. We were told: "You will be notified when to come down for your pay."

What do you say, citizens of Chicagoland? Isn't it about time we elect some responsible people who will clean out the city hall and the county offices and install some courteous, efficient jobholders instead of the parasites whose names are now legion on city and county pay rolls?

DISGUSTED EX-DEMOCRAT.

BLUE AND ORANGE STAMPS.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 14.—Answering "J. G." in reference to use of Surplus Food stamps for purchase of "surplus" items only: I am a former employé of a food stamp issuing office and can correct the erroneous impression he conveyed.

The blue food stamps given free in ratio of 1 to 2 orange food stamps are used only for "surplus" foods. The purchaser of the cheese, J. G. noted, was using orange stamps, for which he paid cash, and not the free blue "surplus" stamps, as cheese is not a surplus item.

It is unfortunate that more publicity is not given to this benign plan, which is so greatly benefiting the consumer, the merchant, and the farmer.

JOSEPH T. MURPHY.

LIKES "LADY OF THE HOUSE."

Chicago, Nov. 14.—May I express my appreciation and enjoyment of your new column by "The Lady of the House" and the hope that she may be accorded greater space in the future. Her homely philosophy seems very satisfying to one who has grown rather tired of the usual run of such columns but who, also, would not surrender, voluntarily, her own high calling as another "lady of the house." I also would like to commend your new homemaker's page in today's [Thursday] TRIBUNE.

PLACES FOR PRAYER.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—In reply to the letter urging "Chapels in the Loop," there are now three places of prayer where one may seek spiritual refreshment and guidance. They are nonsectarian: Unity Fellowship at 1619 Kimball building, daily prayer, 12:15 to 12:30; Unity Truth center, 806 Lakeview building, daily prayer, 12:30. Another center is in the Garrick theater building on Randolph street. I feel certain Malva Andre will find that which she is seeking.

HE'S TICKLED PINK.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Hurray for business men's night at the opera! Here's one male that is tickled to the proverbial pink.

Why not go whole hog and make every night business men's night except Monday, and, of course, opening night? The wife might then get me to go a couple of nights a week. And how about more opera translated into English? I'm looking forward to another performance of "Falstaff" because I knew what was going on without benefit of a libretto. This is America, let's be Americans!

RAYMOND T. CALDWELL.

DEFENSE, NOT PAGEANTRY.

Clinton, Ia., Nov. 15.—Congress has appropriated $35,000 for Mr. Roosevelt's third inaugural and parade. He has experienced all that glory twice. He wrestled with his conscience to get consent to be a candidate for a third term, now let him wrestle with his ego to have a quiet installation in the senate, thereby saving that $35,000 for use on defense or to take care of our sons whom he drafted. We, in the forgotten class, would prefer being taxed for defense rather than for unnecessary pageantry.

A TAXPAYER.

INSPECTION TOURS HALTED.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—We should observe "with fear and with trembling" the lack of inspection tours in munitions and defense plants since election day.

However, our chief inspector can't be expected to be in more than one place at a time and it is possible that "watchful waiting" for submarines in the Chesapeake bay is demanding his whole attention just now.

TITLE CONVEYANCE.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Can you please give me the following information on this vacant lot problem? Legal description of vacant property is under the man's name only. The man disappeared about nine years ago and the wife does not know his whereabouts.

1. Is she allowed to sell the vacant property? They have been married 17 years.

2. If wife is divorced has she the legal right to sell them?

3. If she has not, who takes over the property, and how can I obtain information as to whether the property can be sold?

C. R.

1. She could not convey a clear title without court proceedings.

2. Not unless the court gave her the title.

3. The title still stands in the husband's name. A purchaser would not be satisfied without a conveyance from him, proof of his death, or a court order.

5. Garlic is most nearly related to which one of the following? Squash Spinach Mustard Onion
6. Recently I drove into the country to visit an aunt and uncle. I left my automobile parked in front of the barn on a grassy plot. Later in the evening when I went to the car to get a magazine which I had left in it I found the roof covered with fowls. Assuming that all four of the following species were present on the farm, which would most likely roost on top of an automobile?
   ——Were they ducks?
   ——Were they hens?
   ——Were they turkeys?
   ——Were they geese?

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8 superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

A FAMILY KILLS FATTED CALF FOR VOLUNTEER JIM

He and 99 Others to Join the Army Today.

Today is the day when 100 young men from Cook county, representing Illinois' first contribution to the army under the selective service act, will become soldiers. These 100 men will report this morning at the 122d Field Artillery armory, 234 East Chicago avenue. Then they will be taken to Fort Sheridan where a ceremonious reception, with an escort of honor and a regimental band, awaits them. Here is how one of the 100 spent yesterday, his last day (for one year) as a civilian:

James Patrick Dolan slept until noon and then got up just in time to eat his favorite Sunday dinner of roast pork, mashed potatoes, and buttered corn. In the afternoon he played pool with some of his fellow members of the St. Mel's club, an alumni group from St. Mel's school. He returned home in time for his favorite Sunday evening meal—cake and jello topped with whipped cream.

Mrs. Mary Dolan let her boy sleep late and prepared his favorite dishes because she wanted "everything that Jimmy likes best" on the last Sunday Jimmy expects to spend with his family until this time next year.

Today Jimmy joins the army.

Has Eye on Air Corps.

When he gets to Fort Sheridan and takes aptitude tests and is assigned to the division of the army he can serve best, Jimmy hopes he can become a mechanic in the air corps.

Jimmy, now 21, will leave with the consent and blessing of his father, mother, three brothers, and little sister. They were all at home in the family apartment at 4325 Jackson boulevard yesterday to help him get ready to leave.

Jimmy himself is eager to get his training behind him. Until two months ago he was a truck driver for a grocery. Since he was laid off he has been unable to find work. He hopes to learn a trade in the army.

"About the only thing I'll miss very much is my Mom's cooking," Jimmy says.

Sways Mother with Blarney.

Mrs. Dolan at first opposed her son's intention to volunteer. "I was afraid he would be the first in the trenches if there were a war," she said. "But the boy has a gift for blarney and he talked me around." Mrs. Dolan was born in County Mayo, Ireland.

Jimmy's father, James, a street car motorman, also was born in Ireland.

Jimmy's older brother, John, 23, also lives at home, but he has a good job as a bookkeeper and a high order number in the draft, so he plans to wait until he is called. Frank, the third son, will not be eligible for draft registration for two years. However, it does not worry him. He expects to be married before he is 21.

Probably the Dolan who will miss Jimmy the most this winter is Bobbie, 13. He and Jimmy share the same room. Bobbie said he hated to see so swell a roommate go away.

NINE VOLUNTEERS FETED AT LEGION FAREWELL PARTY

Nine young men who have volunteered for military training under the selective service program and will be inducted into the service today were feted last night at a farewell party given by the Darius-Giremis American Legion post at 4416 South Western avenue.

The volunteers and their mothers, fathers, and girl friends were guests at a banquet served by the Legion auxiliary. They heard speeches by Maj. Howard G. Wade, a member of the staff of the state selective service board; Judge John T. Zuri of the Municipal court, Post Commander A. H. Kasper, and John Kaledinkas banquet chairman.

W-G-N to Record and Air Youths' Entry Into Army

A recording of the arrival of young men at Fort Sheridan at 11:08 a. m. today for their start of army life under the draft, will be broadcast by W-G-N at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. The recording is being made by the station's mobile unit, under direction of Tom Foy. It will include interviews with the new soldiers and ceremonies at the gate of the fort, where the arrivals will be greeted by a color guard, 200 members of the 61st coast artillery in parade dress, and the 14th cavalry's 65 piece band.

Boy Rescued After 270 Ft. Plunge Into Stone Quarry

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 17 (AP).—Jesse Williams Jr., 15 years old, fell 270 feet into a stone quarry today—and lived to tell about it. He lost his balance when a rock on which he was standing gave away, plunging him into 90 feet of water. He swam 150 feet to a rubbish pile from which he was rescued.

Held in Slaying

[TRIBUNE Photos.]
JOHN KELLY.

John Kelly, 34 years old, father of four children, who shot and killed a taxicab driver whom he accused of stealing the love of his wife, was held by Joliet police yesterday for an inquest. His wife, Marie, 28 years old, was also held as a witness. Their home is at 614 2d avenue, Joliet.

The man slain was Joseph Ross, 26, of Joliet. Kelly went to the office of the cab company at 7 Scott street, Joliet, on Saturday, and said that he wanted to hire Ross' cab. When Ross appeared Kelly drew a revolver and shot him.

GIRL AND FATHER GO THRU ICE ON FOX LAKE; SAVED

George S. Hamilton, 222 Forest avenue, Oak Park, and his daughter, Katherine, 17 years old, were rescued yesterday when they went thru the ice on Fox lake.

Hamilton was out several hundred yards from shore on an ice boat when the ice gave way. His daughter, who was skating near shore, saw his plight and skated out with a plank to help him. She went thru the ice before reaching her father.

Emil Grogh, operator of the Waltonian hotel, and several others got a special boat fitted with ice runners and went to the scene. Firemen under Chief Robert Burleigh and police under Chief Louis Krec assisted in bringing the Hamiltons back to shore.

Long Beach, Cal., Nov. 17 [Special].—The first ocean-going vessel to be built in southern California in recent years was launched at the Consolidated Steel corporation's shipyards here the other day. Christened the S. S. Cape Mendocino, she was launched sideways. The vessel is the first of four C-1 cargo ships being constructed here for the United States maritime commission. She is 417 feet long and displaces 12,900 tons. She is scheduled for service on the New York-Havana-Vera Cruz run.

HOLDUP VICTIMS RIOT AT SHOWUP FOR BANDIT GANG

Friday Nighters Identified by Half a Hundred.

More than 750 robbery and crime victims crowded into the detective bureau showup room yesterday to view seven bandits, known as the "Friday night gang," and a band of six, including three parolees, held as rape suspects. Twenty-six detectives stood guard to prevent disorder when many victims threatened the bandits.

The "Friday night gang," so called because its members committed most of their robberies on that night, were identified by 52 victims. Walter Storms, acting chief of detectives, said that they confessed to having robbed approximately 250 taverns in the city and suburbs in the last two years. He estimated their loot at $50,000.

Threatened by Victims.

When the gang members were brought out on the showup platform more than 100 victims and witnesses rose and began to surge toward the bandits. "Let's lynch them!" one shouted. Another shouted, "Let me at that fifth man—he hit me over the head with a bottle."

The police placed themselves between the victims and the prisoners and Chief Storms quieted the throng.

18 Guns Recovered.

Police recovered in their possession 10 pistols, eight shotguns, two suitcases of ammunition, a police portable radio, and a stolen deputy United States marshal's badge. The arrests were made by Sergeants Walter Paradowski, Con Czernikowski, and Timothy O'Connor, and Detectives Joseph Logsdon and Emil Sedlack.

The three parolees, who are held in connection with the rape of a girl 20 years old and were viewed by the victims, are Walter Gorski, 25, of 1956 Cullerton street; Mitchell Kopec, 25, of 1930 21st street, and Ben Malinowski, 23, of 1747 14th street. They were not identified by robbery victims.

One of the three other men held in connection with the rape charges is Tracy Leonard, 25, of 2100 South 50th court, Cicero. All six will be questioned by assistant state's attorneys today.

Police Station Looks Other Way, So Thief Gets $280

There are no windows in the rear of the Jefferson Park police station so the police early yesterday did not see a burglar open a window in the rear of a building across the alley at 4921 Lester avenue. Miss Helen Cline, who lives there with her parents, reported that the thief took $280 and a wrist watch. The station is at 5430 Gale street.

Coal Heat is Best—Costs Less

When the temperature drops and money worries flare up, your best chance to keep a balanced budget lies in burning fuels that give you real value for your money. Those fuels are good, clean coal or coke and the plus values they provide take the form of an even, steady heat flow . . . of freedom from unhealthy drafts and chilly floors . . . of reserves of warmth sufficient to carry you through the longest sub-zero spells and, above all, of an economy so marked that it yields from 40% to 60% more warmth per dollar than can substitute fuels! MORAL: Coal heat keeps your credit as well as your family from freezing. Use it!

Over your Agent's Shoulder

'HINDSIGHT AND FORESIGHT'
a weekly column by
Holgar J. Johnson
President Institute of Life Insurance

WHILE I am addressing this column especially to the life insurance agent, I hope you will all read it over his shoulder.

JOHNSON

"Life Insurance — America's Harvest of Security" was the theme of the Annual Message of Life Insurance last year. During the week of Thanksgiving, our great American harvest festival, I wish we could revive that thought and put it to work constructively.

The job of the life insurance agent is to help people plant and cultivate their future security by taking out, and keeping up, life insurance protection. This is a big job. But there is another which he must not neglect; the job of following through to see that the harvest fulfills its purpose, that the hopes of the policy owner for family security are realized.

Therefore, I suggest that every agent use this occasion to recheck his clients. What does this man really want his insurance to do? Does this wife understand what her husband's insurance is expected to accomplish, so that she is prepared to carry out the plan for family security he created?

And what of the beneficiaries of clients who have died in recent years—can the agent be of any further help to them, with suggestions or guidance?

While this is the sort of thing that the good agent is doing all the time, it seems to me that Thanksgiving week is an especially appropriate time to begin to make doubly sure that no opportunity for service is missed.

Such a checkup of the purposes and benefits of life insurance will help to assure every American family the well-earned rewards of thrift and sacrifice and intelligent planning.

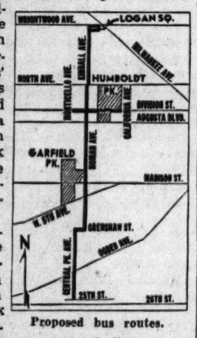
SHOWDOWN NEAR ON SURFACE LINE BUS EXTENSIONS

Park District Pay Claims Hold Up Two Routes.

A dispute between the Chicago Surface Lines and the park district that is holding up the installation of two surface lines' bus routes is expected to reach a showdown this week before the Illinois Commerce commission.



Proposed bus routes.

Settlement of the controversy, which centers on the park district's authority to say what shall run on its boulevards and on what terms, will have far-reaching consequences, according to attorneys.

One of the bus routes, from 25th street and Central Park avenue to Kimball and Wrightwood avenues, would pass thru Logan Square, Park district property, and the other, in Division street from California to Monticello avenues, would run on Humboldt park property for approximately half a mile.

Waived Compensation in Past.

Since the early days of the surface lines small portions of their routes have traversed boulevards or passed thru other park district property. Because these routes are primarily on city streets and only incidentally touch park property, the park commissioners have never required the surface lines to obtain park permits or pay for the use of park property, altho the rival Chicago Motor Coach company pays the park district approximately $200,000 a year for operating buses over its boulevards. The rate is approximately 2 cents per bus mile.

Last month, however, the park board took a new stand when the two surface lines' bus extensions were ordered by the commerce commission. An ordinance was passed requiring compensation at 2 cents per bus mile for use of park property on these two routes and the surface lines were ordered to make an operating agreement within six months covering all parts of all surface lines' routes that are on park properties.

Assail Park Jurisdiction.

The surface lines protested that the park district has no jurisdiction over street car and bus routes. They asserted that they operate under permits issued by the Illinois Commerce commission. The lines asked the commission to enter a new order authorizing establishment of the two bus routes without permission from the park board.

Philip A. Lozowick, attorney for the park board, contended the surface lines should pay for use of park routes in the same proportion as the bus company does because both systems operate similar services.

If this theory is upheld the surface lines might be required to pay many thousands of dollars [nobody has figured how much yet] because some of its heavily traveled routes, such as the Clark street and Ogden avenue lines, run partly on park property.

Harry P. Weber, surface lines attorney, cited a legal precedent involving the city of Chicago and the Chicago Motor Coach company to support his stand against the park district. In 1925, Weber said, the state Supreme court ruled that the city could not force the bus company to get a city permit to use the streets, because authority over use of the streets was vested in the commerce commission.

Attorneys for both sides have announced their intention of carrying the matter to the courts.

POLICE PREPARE TO ENFORCE BAN ON NIGHT PARKING

Traffic police preparing to begin enforcing the city council ban on all night parking for the first time since the ordinance was passed last April, yesterday noted a number of vehicles illegally parked in Rush street between Grand avenue and Ohio street. The cars had been parked in zones bearing no parking signs. On Wednesday summonses are to be attached to all cars parked in streets overnight.

The summonses are to be placed on illegally parked cars near intersections patroled by the city's 400 traffic police. They will be made out in triplicate, one copy being attached by wire to the vehicle, a second retained by police, and the third sent to Traffic court. Warrants are to be issued if the summonses are ignored. Fines are $1 and $2.

Commissioner Allman has not decided whether a systematic attempt will be made to force into garages or parking lots the estimated 450,000 cars parked on the streets every night. There is some doubt whether there would be sufficient garage space to accommodate all of them.

GEN. MARKHAM RETURNS HOME ILL; IMPROVING

Gen. Edward M. Markham, world war commander of the 303d engineers of the 78th division, who cancelled plans to attend a dinner reunion of the engineers in Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday evening because of ill health, was reported improved in his home at 4950 Chicago Beach drive yesterday.

Mrs. Markham said she and her husband had been to New Hampshire on a trip and that the general planned to stop at Buffalo on the way back. He developed a cold and throat irritation and physicians ordered him to return home immediately and go to bed, she said.

A portrait of Gen. Markham was unveiled at the reunion and will be placed alongside those of other ranking wartime officers at Fort Dix, N. J. Gen. Markham is an official of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company.

MINER DIES OF INJURIES.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 17 [Special].—Ray Ryan, 50 years old, of Woodhull, died at a hospital here last night of injuries received in the afternoon when he was struck by falling slate in the Bugos and White coal mine at Alpha.

BROTHER STARTS AUTO IN GEAR; BOY, 10, IS KILLED

Another Brother Injured in Same Accident.

Richard Kubalanza, 10 years old, was killed yesterday and his brother, George, 15, was injured when they were struck by the family car which was started by accident by a third brother, Martin, 21, in front of their home at 6155 South Kostner avenue.

Martin told police he had started the motor of the car, unaware that the machine was in gear. The car struck the other two brothers, who were playing in the street in front of the machine. There are six other children in the family.

Boy, 7, Killed by Car.

Marvin Legnaiot, 7 years old, of 2533 Maple street, Franklin Park, was struck and killed last evening by an automobile when he alighted from a bus at Grand avenue and Maple street, in Franklin Park, and started to circle around the rear of it to cross the street. The driver of the car was Dominick Bellocchio, 21, of 717 South Loomis street.

Earl Jacobson, 23 years old, 5221 Lind avenue, was injured fatally when the car in which he was riding and another machine collided in front of 3417 Foster avenue. Chester Jaglowski, driver of the car in which Jacobson was riding, and two other passengers were injured. The Jaglowski car hit a tree after the collision. The driver of the other car was T. P. O'Brien, a naval lieutenant, of 726 Pine avenue.

Struck by Hit-Run Car.

Channing Hambel, 44, of Batavia, in Kane county, a machinist, was injured seriously when he was struck by the car of a hit and run driver in route 25, two miles north of Aurora.

William McShane, 22, of 505 Madison street, escaped with slight injuries when his automobile skidded thru the guard rail on the wooden flooring of the Wolf road viaduct over the Proviso railroad freight yards of the North Western railroad. The car fell 40 feet to the ground and was demolished.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 766 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 557 were killed in Chicago, where 20,813 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

3 ROBBERS RAID LAUNDRY.

Young Yee, operator of a laundry at 4205 Cottage Grove avenue, reported to police that three Negroes, one of them armed, robbed him of $20 in his shop yesterday.

Popular hosts and hostesses find—

PEOPLE APPRECIATE A CHANCE TO MAKE THEIR BEVERAGE WINE

● In the evening and afternoon when people are together . . . have you noticed lately how many prefer a more leisurely kind of hospitality?

Well-known hosts and hostesses in every section of the country report it. These days, they find, growing numbers of folks prefer wine.

By nature a moderate beverage, wine is a product of sun and soil and man's patient labor. You like to sip your wine slowly. Why don't you be hospitable this more considerate way next time?

TIPS ON SERVING WINE
TABLE WINES go best with meals. They are made "dry" (not sweet) to complement food. Try tart, red Burgundy or Claret; delicate, golden Sauterne or Chablis (chill) ...in servings half water glass size.
SWEET WINES go best with refreshments and desserts. They are made rich with the natural sweetness of the grape. Try red Port or golden Muscatel. Serve in a small glass.
APPETIZERS before dinner taste best with a wine like Sherry. Sherry is amber, nut-like in flavor—usually served in a cocktail-size glass.

Good Morning!

This is one of those lively, sophisticated adventures in which Myrna Loy and Melvyn Douglas always do so well for themselves and by their audiences.

Just a lot of nonsense, the story, but sunny, ingratiating nonsense that causes a decided rise in your good humor temperature.

The heroine is a career girl, who, much pursued by adoring males, and losing job after job because of bosses' jealous wives, fakes a husband and dons a wedding ring. . . . Her "husband," she tells a rapt world, has important interests hither and yon that keep him absent from her. Her dear husband whom she had met one day in a London [or Paris?] rain, fallen in love with on sight, and married instanter! . . .

She's doing all right with her fabrications when—she bumps into Mr. Douglas. . . . He is a painter. . . . She makes him mad and she makes him glad. Learning of her wife in name only status, he pulls a fast one—HOW I won't tell you.

But now—there IS a husband, cosily ensconced right in the family home—the lady lives with her folks—and with everybody but the "wife" simpally nuts about the guy.

How does it all come out? That, my loves, you shall learn from the movie. And have fun for yourselves during the process.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent

Hollywood, Nov. 17.—Sunday: Up early, being at the main hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., and being bothered by locomotives. And so, after writing and filing a piece, with Whitney Bolton to Boulder dam. There, gentlemen of Broadway and Hollywood, is a piece of show business. Stage and screen have been much preoccupied with Americanism. Kaufman and Hart had a go at it with a stage spectacle, "The American Way," and the films have made many a fine try at showing how great this country is. But a 25 cent tour of Boulder dam provides more spectacle, more thrills, than all the shows that ever were made.

Monday—Last night we had a long moonlit desert drive to Furnace creek in Death valley, and now we crawl over to Panamint valley and over the Panamint range to Lone Pine, favorite location spot for outdoor spectacles. The films have built much of Lone Pine and left it standing, and it is strange indeed to see beside the road such things as a huge plaster elephant's head, left over from "Gunga Din." . . . We stop at Mojave to see a little known but wonderful barroom painting called "The Drunkard's Dream," picturing some forgotten artist's conception of the d. t.'s.

Tuesday: A day of desk work, and in the evening to see J. MacDonald and N. Eddy in "Bittersweet." It is, as the ads and marquees always say, in "Glorious Technicolor." . . . "Bittersweet" does very well with the Coward songs and is a lovely production.

Wednesday: To Columbia and the "Penny Serenade" set, where George Stevens is working up to a Japanese earthquake in which Irene Dunne and Cary Grant will be caught in a falling building. Authoress Martha Cheavens, brought here as a consultant on the filming of her own novel—an almost revolutionary idea!—is worried because Stevens wants Grant to use the Japanese word for bedroom when he says to Miss Dunne, his wife, "I'll show you a bedroom." It makes the line sound double-entendre funny when it isn't intended to.

Thursday: To United Artists for a call around the Goldwyn, Lubitsch and lesser offices and to see Lubitsch directing "That Uncertain Feeling." Merle Oberon is the girl in this one and Melvin Douglas and Burgess Meredith the fellas.

Friday—More desk work, and lunch at Lakeside, and Duke Wellington and I start wishing Harry Staton would come out for a visit, and Richard MacCauley says he is still working on "Miss Wheelwright" for the Warners and did I get his and Jerry Wald's "Ten Best Movies" book yet. . . . In the evening to see Wesley Ruggles' "Arizona," which has some of the best stuff I have ever seen in a western. Jean Arthur is mighty fine as a typical Bud Kelland heroine.

Saturday—At Twentieth Century-Fox to watch Randy Scott ride up a frontier street in "Western Union," and to lunch with Teddy Hart, who may land a rôle at Metro in John Cecil Holm's "Four Cents a Word."

Smart Winter Threesome

MISS' JERKIN COSTUME.

This handsome threesome will find popularity with school and college girls, and with youthful career women, too. Practicality and "snap" are its leading virtues, and warmth is a third, altho not very glamorous, attribute! Make it of woolen, of course, with the blouse of silk or cotton. The skirt and jerkin might match or contrast, as you choose.

Style No. 2742 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 1⅞ yards of 54 inch material for skirt; ¾ yard for jerkin; 2¼ yards of 39 inch for blouse with long sleeves.

Hat pattern No. 2500 costs 10 cents extra.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully, for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

The skin softening properties of milk and cream are an old, old story. But the old story takes on a streamlined twist today, when a cream made of 80 per cent pure milk—and a cream that won't deteriorate or change in any way even in the course of a whole year—has been perfected.

The cream is called a cleansing milk; it isn't like other creams nor is it used like them. It's white, of course, and a little spongy in texture. You apply it to the skin in upward and outward strokes and leave it on for a few minutes. Then you wash it off with clear water and a sponge.

The cleansing is excellent; at the same time the skin is refreshed and cooled and there is a mild astringent effect that makes you feel that skin texture as well as clarity is being benefitted. It's a cleansing cream for all kinds of complexions.

If the skin is very dry—and whose isn't these days?—the cleansing milk application is followed with a milk emulsion, one of the most beautiful skin soothers we have ever used. It's like a thick, satiny liquid cream, that can be worked into the skin and left there as an overnight softener or can be used before makeup. In the latter case the excess is wiped off and the skin left moist and soft.

We made an interesting and rather important discovery about the emulsion. It's a perfectly marvelous body lotion, almost instantly effective in soothing chapped knees and elbows and in relieving that horrible dry itchy feeling that dry skin suffers after bathing. What's more, it has tremendous possibilities as a hand lotion. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Donald F. McPherson, president of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, and Mrs. McPherson; the Herbert Popes, the Daggett Harveys, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, the George A. Richardsons, and John R. Winterbotham are among those who will sit at the speaker's table today when Lewis W. Douglas speaks on "American Foreign Policy—A Businessman's View." The meeting will be at 12:30 o'clock in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House.

Robert Topping, tenor, and Izler Solomon, conductor, will be the especial guests at a reception for the Woman's Symphony associates from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon in the theater lounge of the Kungsholm.

Sings Violetta Role Tonight

Undeniably, the fact that Jarmila Novotna, the exciting Czecho-Slovakian soprano, is to sing the rôle of Violetta in tonight's performance of "La Traviata" by the Chicago Opera company has much to do with the tremendous sale of advance tickets, excelled only by opening night.

Even Mme. Novotna was slightly breathless when apprised of this on her arrival here yesterday. However, she candidly admitted that three other factors impress her more.

For one thing, it is her Chicago debut. For another, she will sing opposite Tito Schipa, with whom she last sang years ago in Italy in Donizetti's "Elixir of Love." Finally, she will be singing the rôle in which she made her operatic debut in Prague when she was 17.

["La Traviata" will be broadcast over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system from 9:30 to 11 p. m. tonight. Alexander Sved, the noted baritone, will sing the rôle of the father.]

Mme. Novotna is a rare being in the world of opera. She is beautiful, and fulfills well her advance billing as "the most beautiful woman on the European opera stage." She is tall and slender, with a magnificent carriage. Her features are sensitive and patrician, her eyes a flashing brown and her hair dark. Her vivacity is as encompassing as her smile and she talks with her face rather than her hands.

Aunt Lizzie's Tale.

Aunt Lizzie took a second forkful of pumpkin chiffon pie with gingersnap crust and looked at me accusingly. "'Taint like no punkin pie I ever et afore! 'Pears like you'd stop makin' these furrin' vittles!" I nudged a second piece of pie across the tea table, quite aware that Aunt Lizzie's compliments are always left-handed! Then, while she munched contentedly, I poked the fire until it went roaring up the chimney.

"Right purty, them flames is! They remind me of hell," commented Aunt Lizzie, sociably! "And don't be a-sayin' I don't know what hell looks like," she bristled. "I know, because I've seen it with my own eyes!"

"Go on, Aunt Lizzie," I begged.

"Well, 'twas thisaway! About five-six years ago Johnny had been a-fixin' to do some night fishin' down to Sally Hole on Jack's Forks. One night after he got the milkin' done, I says: 'Johnny, this'd be a good night to ketch them fish. The almanac shows the signs is in the feet, and they's a-goin' t' be a bright moon.' I knowed them big bass down there at Sally Hole would be a-feedin' all night, and Johnny did, too.

"Well, purty soon we wuz a-walkin' along the road down by Simonses, figgerin' we'd cut over to Sally Hole along the crick, 'n danged if Sam Gansett didn't ketch up with us! And him a-carryin' a lantern! Well, Johnny told him that lantern would scare all them fish back to their beds, but Sam 'lowed fish that scairt that easy wa'n't wuth ketchin!"

"So the three of you walked along with the lantern?"

"So we did! And you know how them willers hang low along the banks o' the crick. Well, we wuz a-walkin' along, a-stoopin' and a-stumblin' on the rocks. And all to onc't Sam seen a island jis' beyant the water's edge! It looked leveler than where we wuz a-walkin', so he jis' stepped over on it. And, lawsy mercy, it wa'n't no island a-tall! It was jist a big lot o' leaves that had kerlected in that spot, and they'd been a-layin' there and a-layin' there until they'd all rotted. 'N Sam went thru them old rotten leaves, and down into the water, clean up to his neck!"

"But, Aunt Lizzie, what about this hell business!"

"Hesh yore jaw, Margit, I'm a-comin' to that! Well, when Sam went down thru them old rotten leaves, the lantern went with him. And you know when leaves rots like that, they make a kind of gas. Well, that gas ketched fire from the lantern and it wuz a-burnin' with a kind of a bluey light, and all them leaves that was dry on top wuz a-burnin' with a red light, and there was Sam up to his neck in them flames a-wavin' his arms, and a-hollerin' fer us to save him! 'N ever since that night I've knowed jis' ezackly how hell looks!"

"'N I'm a-wishin' that what's-his-name over there in Germany wuz in it!"

Popular Operas Rule Tomorrow and Wednesday

"La Traviata" Highlights

Here are some of the highlights in "La Traviata," which will be presented by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house tonight:

In Act 1, Tito Schipa, Jarmila Novotna and the chorus sing the drinking song. Mr. Schipa and Miss Novotna sing the love duet, "Un di felice." Miss Novotna sings the celebrated aria and cabaletta, "Ah, fors è lui" and "Sempre libera."

In Act 3, the ballet dances Spanish divertissements, and the dramatic scene occurs in which Violetta [Miss Novotna] is denounced by Alfredo [Mr. Schipa].

In Act 4, Miss Novotna, seated before her mirror, sings the farewell aria, "Addio del passato." Miss Novotna and Mr. Schipa sing the duet, "Parigi, o Cara."

Operas beloved to the general public will be featured by the Chicago Opera company tomorrow and Wednesday evenings.

Puccini's delicate tragedy, "Madame Butterfly," will be given tomorrow evening, and a double feature—Macagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" plus Cavallo's "I Pagliacci"—is scheduled for business men's night, Wednesday. Informal attire is the style on Wednesday evenings.

As Lieut. Pinkerton in "Madame Butterfly," Frederick Jagel, a leading tenor of both the Metropolitan and Chicago opera companies, will make his third appearance here this season. Known thruout the opera world as "Minute Man Jagel," the celebrated tenor is famous for his ability to sing any of 26 rôles without rehearsals. He will appear on W-G-N's opera program tonight as a prologue to the productions of the next two evenings.

Rosa Tentoni, a charming young soprano, will sing the title rôle opposite Jagel. Miss Tentoni has appeared with the Metropolitan and San Francisco opera companies and on numerous radio programs. She also took part in the movie, "A Night at the Opera," with the Marx brothers.

Supporting rôles in "Madame Butterfly" will be taken by George Czaplicki, popular Polish baritone, and Ada Paggi, prominent mezzo-soprano. The well known Italian conductor, Angelo Canarutto, will direct.

Maurice Abravanel, famous Portuguese conductor who will direct a series of French and Italian works with the Chicago Opera company this season, will wield his baton for both operas Wednesday evening. Altho still in his 30s, Abravanel has achieved recognition thruout the world as a conductor of operatic music as well as a champion of modern composition.

The cast of "Cavalleria Rusticana" will include Dusolina Giannini, dramatic soprano, as Santuzza, and Arthur Carron, young British tenor, as Turiddu. Lydia Summers, mezzo-soprano, will take the part of Lola, and Mack Harrel, baritone, will sing Alfio.

Giovanni Martinelli, internationally acclaimed tenor, will take the rôle of Canio, the master of a traveling troupe in "I Pagliacci." He will be supported by comely Margit Bokor, Hungarian soprano, as Nedda. The part of Nedda's husband, the clown, Tonio, will be sung by Carlo Morelli, baritone.

Dance Troupe Gives Program New to Chicago

BY CECIL SMITH.

Doris Humphrey, Charles Weidman, and their modern dance company ended a two year absence yesterday afternoon, appearing in the Grand Opera house under the sponsorship of the Chicago Dance council. The audience was large and responsive, and indicated clearly that Miss Humphrey and Mr. Weidman do not need to make their Chicago concerts so infrequent.

Except for the Variations from "New Dance," the entire program consisted of compositions new to Chicago. Of these the most completely satisfying was "Square Dances," a gay and delightful suite composed by Miss Humphrey to music by Lionel Novak. With Miss Humphrey and Mr. Weidman as the lead couple, and five other dancers completing the ensemble, the suite presents a sequence of fresh and original movements which "have a nodding acquaintance" with a country dance, a tango, a schottische and a waltz.

While the movement in the "Square Dances" is free and unconventional, it retains the buoyancy and extroversion of old fashioned social dancing. The figures of the group dances are both resourceful and well balanced in form, and a recurrent interlude skilfully bridges the gap from one kind of dance to the next. The costumes are colorful, and in every way the "Square Dances" are exhilarating theatrical material.

Not so much can be said of Miss Humphrey's "Song of the West," a group composition in two parts, with music by Mr. Novak in the first part and Roy Harris in the second. I did not see "The Green Land," the first part, but I found the second half, "Desert," a disappointing and retrogressive work, with fake Indians wearing absurd headdresses and crossing and recrossing the stage in monotonous diagonals. Raymond Ericson, who watched "The Green Land" on my behalf, felt that it harked back alarmingly to the early period of Miss Humphrey's association with Ruth St. Denis, and presented a quality of movement which seemed trite.

I was also away from the theater when "The Shakers" was performed. This new work, also created by Miss Humphrey, Mr. Ericson found dignified and beautifully patterned, tho somewhat lacking in intensity and excitement.

Mr. Weidman's "On My Mother's Side" is a series of solo dances characterizing some of his Nebraska ancestors, and finally himself. Without resorting to obvious pantomime Mr. Weidman has created an expert and witty suite, in which he dances brilliantly.

The Don Cossack chorus, conducted by Serge Jaroff, filled the Civic Opera house twice yesterday. As always, the choristers sang with virile and thrilling tone and presented their wares with shrewd showmanship.

Pastel Dresses of Thin Wool Are Must for Fur Coat Season

BY REA SEEGER.

When the dark fur coats finally get out into daily circulation, pastel colored thin wool dresses become a "must" buy for nearly every shopper. As a dressup alternate they can't be equaled.

Some exceptionally effective pastels are featured now, several lovely shades of delicate beige or caramel, a lot of benevolent blues that slide under all shades of brown fur coats as well as dark grays and black coats. Plenty of flattering pink shades are shown from real honest-to-goodness bonbon pink to the subtle dusky or powder pinks. Raspberry, dusky tints of gold, acid lemons, a few tangerine shades, brilliant carbon blue, Larma violet, and several telling tints of gray from the palest moonlight silver to gun metal and Quaker grays offer everything for fur coat contrast tricks.

Most of these thin wool dresses are extremely simple, but they do stress the fitted streamline, soft shirrings, soft folds that achieve front fullness without bulk, and new this season are the many clever applique trim devices. Side-swept outlines are still very high fashion as are simple covered up neck and throatlines. Bands and bow ties of the same wool material are used almost exclusively as the only decoration. Skirts are short and swing full around the hemline. Waistlines and hiplines are smoother and more revealing than ever before.

Sleeves are interestingly different in several new lengths. Some cover the elbow, some are bracelet length, some fit tightly from shoulder to well down on the hand, but all repeat some sort of the trim or shirred detail of the bodice or dress.

It's the unusual color that makes them so eye-catching and so perfect as the color foil for dark cloth or fur coats. Most of the wool is smooth and amazingly soft, but there are numerous models made of that fascinating hairy wool called "rabbit hair." Jersey also comes in these pastels ready for winter color duty with dark topcoats. Varying shades of green are extremely popular as it rates the same effectiveness as gold with brown furs.

Bishop Tucker to Be Guest at Church Club Reception

The Episcopal Church club of Chicago will hold a reception and dinner tonight at the University club in compliment to the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church. Bishop Tucker is attending a three day conference at the Allerton hotel with 17 Episcopal bishops from seven midwest states. The conference, convened by the Rt. Rev. Edwin J. Randall, suffragan bishop of Chicago, will hear the plans of a 10 year advancement missionary program for the church at large.

The Odor of Violets

By Baynard Kendrick

[Copyright: 1940: By Baynard Kendrick.]

INSTALMENT I.

A BOTTLE OF PERFUME.

The Crags was built high up on an eminence above the little town of Tredwill Village, west of Hartford, in the Connecticut hills. Ordinarily, the tall buildings of the city could be seen from the Tredwill home. Now, even the few scattered houses in the village below were hidden from view.

Norma Tredwill [Mrs. Thaddeus Tredwill, number four] sat down at the top of the stairs on a broad window seat and looked out thru the mullioned panes. Her warm red lips, always ready to part in humor or sympathy, were pensively set. She stared thru the frost marked glass at the swirling snow, oblivious to the storm.

She was thinking of Paul Gerente. Ten years before she had put him out of her life completely, determined to forget a year of marriage to him which had been nothing more than a short, unhappy episode in her career.

A step sounded down the hall. Norma stood up just as her stepdaughter Barbara came out of her room. Babs was wearing a trim tailormade suit and carrying a mink coat over her arm. She was the only one of the Tredwill family who had never quite accepted Norma into the Tredwill home. For three years Norma had vainly tried to break down the barrier between them, a barrier which was never apparent on the surface, but which Babs, in a thousand small ways, managed to make smartingly real.

The politeness was always there, deference even, but it came thru too readily to be genuine. Babs' tenderness was as apt as some adroit line of an author's spotted in a play.

Norma said:

"You're up early yourself, Babs."

"The weather, probably. Are you coming down? It's a filthy day."

"I certainly agree." Norma looked at the coat on Babs' arm. "Don't tell me you're planning on going out! The wind will blow you away."

"New York," said Babs. "It's Stacy's idea. Christmas is on Monday. If we don't get in today, there'll be no presents for our darling father and you."

Norma refused to be piqued by Bab's tone. "Why not Hartford, if you simply must? It's not so far away."

"Stacy has something special picked out for Thad—and Cheli Scott, too, I suppose. Leave it to my 15 year old brother." Babs spoke with all the languid disparagement of an 18 year old for one three years her junior. "It's New York, I'm afraid." She started down the stairs.

Inwardly, Norma sighed. Another conversation with Babs was ending in the usual way, bright and friendly up to a point. Beyond that they never seemed to go.

"Run along if you've a train to catch," said Norma. "Are you taking the coupe?"

Babs turned on the stairs and nodded absently. "Stacy's driving us into Hartford. We'll leave it at a garage near the station. We're going to spend the night in New York with the Ritters and be back tomorrow. I don't think this snow can last another day."

Norma watched Babs descend the stairs. The girl's youthful beauty was almost too perfect; like a picture done in tints too bright—gold and white, rose and blue—which time might fade. Such coloring needed vivacity behind it, but Babs smoldered almost sulkily.

"The Tredwill men have all the temperament," Norma thought. Thad's two sons, Gilbert, 28, and Stacy, 15, tho separated widely in years were much alike. They were quick to laugh, constantly enthusiastic about something, altho their cause might change in a day. Thaddeus, himself, had all the ingrained egoism of a genius. He ruled his house and his family capriciously, and sometimes noisily, but back of his heated displays of temper he looked at life with a humorous glint in his eye.

Norma heard Cheli Scott greet Babs downstairs. Cheli was a young playwright and one of the numerous examples of genius in embryo that the perspicacious producer delighted in nursing to maturity in the environs of his home. He had seen one of her plays in London two years before. Now she was working on a new one which Thaddeus wanted to try out in his own small theater, an integral part of the Crags. Unlike most of Thad's experiments, Cheli made the house seem more pleasant and alive. Norma liked gayety and laughter, and Cheli Scott was friendly and amusing, a delightful, considerate guest.

Babs depended on servants to keep the material articles of living in their proper places. Fastidious about her own appearance, she left behind her a limp trail of dresses, underwear, and stockings. The three mirror dressing table was a jumble of make-up jars and glittering crystal bottles. Norma stepped inside and closed the door with a feeling of guilty intrusion.

At the back of the dressing table was a crystal bottle of unusual design. It was larger than the rest, and obviously new. The stopper of black cunningly wrought glass was so skillfully made that it gave an illusion of an exotic black flower, slightly evil, thrust into the bottle by its stem. Colored cellophane had been rolled down to encircle the base of the bottle. The slim flacon rose out of it with an appearance of naked beauty, as tho it were some tiny woman of glass who had dropped her dress to the floor.

Norma felt a slight touch of faintness, and sat down on the rose cushioned bench in front of the dressing table. The triple mirror showed her piquant face pale above the blue satin of her housecoat. The tiny freckle over the dimple in her left cheek glowed brightly, as it always did when she was perturbed.

Automatically she took her vanity case from the pocket of her housecoat and touched her cheeks with rouge. She snapped the jeweled case shut and returned it to her pocket. The perfume bottle was possessed with the magnetism of memories. Twice she reached out to touch it, but forced herself to keep her hands away.

She suddenly knew what had brought Paul Gerente back to mind. Ten minutes earlier, on her interrupted trip to breakfast, she had glimpsed that $75 bottle of black orchid thru Babs' partly opened door.

That single glimpse had swept ten years away. The gift of a similar bottle had begun Paul's courtship. Norma smiled a trifle bitterly. A bottle of the same black orchid had ended her marriage to Paul. She had seen it in the bedroom of another woman, and there had been others, too. Paul Gerente had distributed his black orchid tokens of affection as liberally as his charm.

Norma made a slight moue of distaste at her reflection in the mirror, then stood up and left the room. She did not intend to allow a fantastically incredible idea to run away with her natural good judgment. Paul Gerente, once a famous stage name, had dropped out of sight after she divorced him. There had been various unsubstantiated rumors that he had lost his money in the market and taken to drink. Past association was flimsy evidence on which to base an assumption; just because Babs had an unusual bottle of expensive perfume was no indication that she was seeing Paul.

The house was very silent. Norma stopped again at the top of the stairway. From below she heard Cheli Scott say good-by. Cheli's words were followed by the opening and closing of the front door and the whine of the starter as Stacy started the coupe. Norma waited until the clank of chains in gravel and snow told her that the car was gone before she went downstairs.

Cheli, brilliant in a suit of red velvet pajamas, was curled up in the depths of a great armchair in front of the blazing log fire in the living room. She looked up from the pages of a manuscript, brushed back thick brown curls to disclose a smile in her blue-gray eyes, and said, "Cheerio, sleepyhead! How do you like the snow?"

"I think it makes me hungry," Norma told her. "Have you and the rest raided the larder completely, or is there anything left for me?"

"Sausage and scrambled eggs in the hotplate," said Cheli. "Coffee in the Silex, and cornbread and rolls in the warmer."

ACTIONS JUSTIFIED.

Rowan squirmed. Stephen's gaze still pinned hers. "O, well! It's nothing, really. You will believe I didn't take it to heart, that is not afterwards? I was upstairs, lying on Hazel's bed. I suppose I'd dropped off. Suddenly I woke up. You were there, stalking down on me. You—you had the carving knife in your hand."

His fingers had just closed on hers. They whipped away, stung.

"My God!" He had gone ghastly white. "And you call that nothing?"

"Not when—when I'd got to know you better. I've an uncle who walks in his sleep. What other answer was there? I yelled at you, and you crept away like a lamb."

"Carving knife——!"

"You dropped it in here on the floor. I just put it away. O, why did you make me——? You'd never have known."

"Never——?"

Speech dammed, a strange bitterness blighting his face, he sat for long moments staring at the withered irises. At last, with effort, he spoke.

"What I can never make you or any one else understand," he hesitated, "is the rotten state I was in when I came down to these wilds. I hated every human soul, including myself. Sunstroke, perhaps; but there were other—complications. A girl. She had been practically holding me up to marry her. O, she's got tied to some one else now. I heard about it yesterday in town; but at the exact moment I ran into you——"

"You don't need to explain, Stephen."

"How can I explain—the hideous thing you've told me? It's my attitude of mind I'm trying to make you see. I wanted peace—a blackout. I could have done murder to attain it. And to get snarled up in some sticky death inquiry seemed just the last straw. I suppose in the back of my consciousness I knew I'd been socked, and that somehow it was connected with the cursed manuscript I'd contrived to mislay. Maybe I'd a subconscious hunch the criminal was back in this house hunting what I'd lost, meaning to nab it and let me take the blame—as was probably the case. Not that any of this can mitigate—"

He got up, walked to the fireplace, and remained there, back turned.

"Well, that's torn it." He flung his cigaret into the fire. "Not the smallest use saying . . . No, I'll be clearing off, I think. Let's have the skirt. I'll burn it in my stove."

It seemed an age that he went on facing the mantel, hands clenched.

"Don't be silly." She steadied her voice. "Turn round, come here. What were you going to say?"

He came, willingly or not she couldn't decide.

"Nothing. Hand me that skirt."

"Go on, idiot! What's the big idea?"

"That—" He stopped, wrenched angrily, and started again. "That however you felt about me—supposing you did, which is improbable—you could never take on the job of a man who might turn out to be a criminal lunatic? Not even if a Harley Street specialist assured you he was okay?"

Ten minutes ago she had told herself finally that it never could happen. It had happened—and now she couldn't speak.

"You've seen the worst of me," he muttered. "I promise you that. It may take a little time yet for me to begin acting like a human being. No, don't answer. Let's take it as said." He moved towards the door.

"Wait! Aren't you forgetting—this?" She dragged the crumpled tweed from under the cushion and thrust it into his hands. "Thanks, Stephen. It's good of you to keep me out of it so completely."

"Well, yes, perhaps." She put back his vagrant lock of hair. "Shall we leave it like this till . . . breakfast time?"

THE END.

Frank H. Wright and California Girl Are Wed

The marriage of Miss Janet Minor to Frank H. Wright took place Saturday afternoon at St. Mark's parish church in Evanston. Miss Minor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. LeRoy Minor of Encieno, Cal. Mr. Wright is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Wright of Woodlawn avenue, Chicago.

A reception was held in the Georgian hotel in Evanston after the ceremony. After their return from a wedding trip, Mr. Wright and his bride will live in Rogers Park. The former Miss Minor attended Wellesley college and Mr. Wright was graduated from Dartmouth college.

Miss Marion Musser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Robert Musser of Muscatine, Ia., became the bride of Glen A. Lloyd in New York on Friday. Mr. Lloyd is the son of Mrs. Henry Baldwin Lloyd and the late Mr. Lloyd of Chicago. After a wedding trip to Jamaica, British West Indies, Mr. Lloyd and his bride will be at home in Libertyville, Ill.

Miss Musser attended the Howe-Marot school in Connecticut and was graduated from Vassar college. Mr. Lloyd is a graduate of Maryville college and of the University of Chicago law school.

The marriage of Miss Marie Cecelia Dooley to Richard Otto Ballschmider took place Saturday morning in St. Luke's church in River Forest. Miss Dooley is the daughter of the William Grover Dooleys of River Forest. Mr. Ballschmider is the son of Otto David Ballschmider of Sheboygan, Wis. After a wedding trip to Hawaii, Mr. Ballschmider and his bride will be at home in Sheboygan.

Miss Bernice Siebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Siebel of Fullerton parkway, became the bride of Joseph Ferdinand Osten on Saturday. The wedding took place in the Siebel home. Mr. Osten and his bride will be at home in Lincolnwood after Jan. 1.

The marriage of Miss Dorothea Lippman to the Rev. Raymond Fechner will take place on Thanksgiving night at the First St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church. Miss Lippman is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Lippman of River Grove. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the parish hall of the Bethlehem Evangelical Lutheran church in River Grove.

HAROLD TEEN—OFF ON THE RIGHT FOOT

GOSH, POP—I DON'T SEE WHY ALL TH' MOTHERS IN TOWN ARE DOWN ON ME—I DIDN'T DO ANYTHING SO WRONG—
LET ME REMIND YOU, RUNNING AWAY FROM HOME WAS A SERIOUS OFFENSE—YOU CAUSED YOUR PARENTS MUCH GRIEF, ANXIETY AND PAIN—INSTEAD OF FEELING SORRY FOR YOURSELF, SHOW THEM BY DEEDS YOUR EXPERIENCES HAVE MADE A MAN OF YOU—
POP! I GOT A JOB LINED UP—AN' I'M GONNA MAKE GOOD!
FINE! FINE!
—GOOD LUCK, M'BOY!

Today's Features

ON W-G-N.
[Central Standard Time.]

A broadcast from the Chicago Civic Opera house of the performance of "La Traviata" will be presented from 9:30 to 11 p. m. Featured in the leading rôles will be Jarmila Novotna, Czech soprano; Tito Schipa, Italian tenor, and Alexander Sved, Hungarian baritone.

Frederick Jagel, tonight's Star of the Opera, will be interviewed at 8:23 p. m. Jagel, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera for more than a decade, will sing the rôle of Lieut. Pinkerton in "Madame Butterfly" in the opera next Tuesday.

The new music show, Harold Stokes Presents, will be offered at 4 p. m. The program today is entitled "Cavalcade of Transportation." The production is written and directed by Norman Hyne. Special music was written by Harold Stokes and Charles McConnell.

Don Pedro's quarter hour of songs and favorite violin selections moves to a new broadcast period today. The program, formerly scheduled at 10:15 a. m. Monday thru Friday, henceforth will be heard at 11:45 a. m. the same days.

Play Broadcast, a quiz show with Bill Anson, Bob Elson, Jess Kirkpatrick, and Harold Stokes and the W-G-N dance orchestra, will be offered at 7 p. m. Your Music I. Q., another quiz show, will be heard at 8:30 p. m. The board of experts will be Dusolina Giannini, soprano; Jean Ensinger, musical recording expert; Douglas Beattie, Chicago Opera basso, and Carleton Smith, globe-trotting music editor.

Numerology By Evelyn Holmes

Nov. 18, 1940.

Birthdays—This is the birthday of Amelita Galli-Curci. If this is your birthday, the year ahead should bring greater expansion in your business or professional life, and many more opportunities to make important contacts. Since you know that your personal year coming means more power and authority, it is up to you to seek these. Nothing is just given to you without any effort on your part. If you deserve a reward this is the year you should receive it, but if you have wasted your energy and opportunities in the last few years, you may expect upsets in your financial affairs and loss of authority. Since a nine-birthday [one plus eight equals nine] means universal expression those in music and the arts ought to have increased chances to express their gifts.

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1941 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Well, the 1940 self-rating examination is over, except for the rating of the thousands of answers sent in to me. It is too early to announce how the bridge public expressed its collective self on each question, but not too early, I think, to review at greater length those particular questions which created controversy, and others which many examinees did not seem to understand fully. I will start this reanalysis tomorrow. Meanwhile, let me restate the schedule for the final rankings:

Final standing of—	Grade.
950 points or over	Master
875-949 points	Expert
800-874 points	Advanced
700-799 points	Good average
600-699 points	Weak average
500-599 points	Poor
Below 500 points	Dub

Today's Hand

To be caught flat-footed in a throw-in play that could easily have been avoided will make any expert blush. West was unhappy about the following hand:

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ None
♦ J 10 7 5

WEST
♠ 10 6
♥ Q 10 8 7 5
♦ Q 8 3 2
♣ K Q

EAST
♠ Q J 8 4 3
♥ K
♦ K 9 6 4

SOUTH
♠ 7 2
♥ A J 9 6 4 3 2
♦ A
♣ J 6 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
1 spade	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	4 hearts	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the club king. The dummy's ace was put up and declarer entered his own hand via the diamond ace. The heart ace now felled East's lone king, and declarer then led a small heart [a questionable play under the circumstances]. West won, cashed the club queen, then exited with a diamond. Declarer ruffed, led to the spade king, ruffed another diamond, led to the spade ace, and ruffed dummy's last diamond. This eliminated all cards except trumps from West's hand. Now declarer led his remaining club. West had to ruff and, by being caught on lead, had to concede a trick to declarer's J-9 of trumps. The contract was down only one trick, and East-West's match-point score on this board was not good.

The vital defensive trick had been tossed away by West's lead of the diamond. This acted as another entry to dummy, permitting the ruffing out of all the diamonds. A spade lead by West would have broken up declarer's timing and would have insured four trump tricks, instead of three, for the defenders.

Pomegranate Is Colorful Fruit for a Cocktail

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The pomegranate is a fruit as old as mythology, but it isn't cultivated extensively in this country. A beautiful, ruddy red fruit with a leathery skin, it is packed with transparent-appearing seeds and refreshing acid juice. The seeds often are used to garnish salads, and some persons enjoy eating pomegranates on the half-shell, a very seedy dish, to be sure. But most of us would rather drink the juice than crunch the seeds.

Cut a pomegranate in half crosswise and you have one of nature's most beautiful designs, a six pointed star. But if you'd rather admire the pomegranate with your palate than with our eyes, use an orange squeezer to extract the juice. Drink the juice as is, or combine it with orange juice, in which case it will go farther.

It would be extravagant to serve pomegranate juice to a crowd, since it takes a lot of pomegranate to make a little juice. So if you'd like pomegranate cocktails to precede Thanksgiving dinner, it's a better idea to obtain the flavor by boiling the seeds until they give up their color.

POMEGRANATE COCKTAIL.

Boil the seeds from a large pomegranate with 2 slices lemon and 3 cups water for 15 or 20 minutes, until the water has absorbed color and flavor from the seeds. Add half a cup of sugar, boil 5 minutes longer, and strain. Chill, add a tablespoonful of lemon juice, and serve in small glasses. Or combine with an equal amount of orange juice.

Only the cranberry can rival the beautiful, deep red color of pomegranate juice and good things made from it. In the case of pomegranate ice, the color is so diluted by other ingredients that it is a good idea to reënforce it with a few drops of red coloring.

Pomegranate Ice.
[Made in freezer.]
4 cups water
2 cups sugar
2 cups pomegranate juice
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Few drops red coloring

Boil sugar and water for 5 minutes. Add other ingredients, strain, and freeze, using three parts ice to one part salt.

Presbyterian Hospital Benefit Tea to Be Today

A tea will be given by women of the Fourth Presbyterian church this afternoon at the church parlors to raise funds for the Thanksgiving offering collected each year by the woman's board of the Presbyterian hospital. Mrs. Edwin W. Sims and Mrs. Charles S. Reed will be in charge.

Red Cross to Send 30,000 Christmas Packages Abroad

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The Red Cross said today that its junior members had prepared more than 30,000 Christmas packages to be sent to children in England. Each contains 10 or 12 small gifts of toys and toilet articles. About 30,000 other packages will be sent to children in Greenland, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Guatemala, Mexico, China, Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Philippines, Alaska, and Guam.

WILSON ARRIVES TODAY TO SIGN CUB CONTRACT

CHICAGO PASS GOES TO 1 YARD LINE AT FINISH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Chicago's Bears, leaders of the Western division in the National Football league, came within a yard of whipping the Eastern division pace setters in Griffith stadium today, but when the battle was over Washington's Redskins had successfully defended a 7 to 3 lead acquired in the second quarter.

The last minute of this furiously waged ball game provided as exciting a finish as a professional football crowd ever has seen.

There were 20 seconds to play and the Bears had the ball in midfield. Hundreds of fans were crowding toward the exits convinced the scoring was over for the day. Everyone apparently agreed with them except the Bears.

Pass Goes to 1 Yard Line.

Sid Luckman, who acted as if his team still was very much in the ball game, hurled a long pass to Bobby Swisher, but the ball was knocked down by Bob Titchenal, a Redskin freshman. That didn't discourage the Bears at all. Bob Snyder faded deep, gave George McAfee plenty of time to get down the field and then tossed a long pass directly into his arms. McAfee was brought down on the 1 yard line where Coach George Halas stopped the clock by sending in a substitute. The Bears were penalized for excessive time outs.

There was time for only one more play. Luckman passed to Osmanski in the end zone, but the former Holy Cross star couldn't lift his arms because of what appeared to be interference on the part of Titchenal, Washington's center.

Bounces Off Osmanski's Chest.

The gun sounded just as the ball bounded off Osmanski's chest and one of the wildest finishes of the season was history. This was the only time this season the Bears have failed to score a touchdown.

The Bears made their field goal toward the end of the first quarter when Jack Manders kicked from the 33 yard line. The Redskins overcame this handicap in the middle of the second period when Dick Todd, catching a pass from Frank Filchock, ran nineteen yards for a touchdown.

The Western division leaders had the better of the statistics, which brought them little satisfaction tonight. They made sixteen first downs to the Redskins' eleven and piled up 149 yards by rushing as compared with forty-four for the Redskins. Washington, with two of the most accurate forward passers in the game in Baugh and Filchock, completed thirteen of its nineteen aerials, but the Bears made more yardage. Their nine completions netted 148 yards to the Redskins' 125.

Redskins Assured of Tie.

The Redskins assured themselves of at least a tie for the Eastern division title by their victory today. The Bears kept pace in the Western section with Green Bay, which lost to the New York Giants.

McAfee was the Bears' headliner. He averaged more than six yards as a ball carrier, completed two out of four forward passes and was on the receiving end of two successful aeri-

Giants Defeat Green Bay on Fumble, 7 to 3

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—In a game that could just as well have ended two minutes after the opening kickoff, the New York Giants scored a touchdown almost before the crowd of 28,262 was seated today and upset the Green Bay Packers, 7 to 3, in a National Football league game.

Larry Buhler, former Minnesota star, was the particular goat. He fumbled the opening kickoff and Leland Shaffer, Giant full back from Kansas State, recovered on the Packers' 6 yard line. On third down, Len Barnum passed to Shaffer in the end zone. Barnum added the extra point.

The Packers, altho battering away all the rest of the afternoon, proved inept once they managed to penetrate any distance into Giant territory and their only contribution to the score came with five minutes to go in the final quarter, when Clarke Hinkle kicked a thirty-one yard field goal. Afterward, the Packers tried desperation passes but the Giant defenders, giving what was probably their most alert performance of the season, beat back these attempts.

UNLESS CORNELL RELENTS, IT'S 7-3 AGAINST INDIANS

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 17 (AP).—Asa Bushnell, head of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football association, declared tonight that whether Cornell beat Dartmouth Saturday on the fourth or fifth down his association had no power to change the 7 to 3 score.

"Our association has no authority in the matter, nor do the officials have any authority to make any change after their decision has been made," Bushnell said.

Any action, Bushnell said, would be a matter for Dartmouth and Cornell to decide. He explained the association was formed primarily to assign neutral officials to games.

INDIANS CELEBRATE

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 17 (AP).—In the face of Cornell's disputed 7 to 3 triumph Saturday, Dartmouth's Indians were hailed as victorious heroes on the campus today, altho the college officially maintained the attitude that the "score is on the board."

Coach Earl Blaik told a victory rally that W. H. Friesell is "a great referee" and that Dartmouth would abide by the decision of the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic association.

Motion pictures of the game will be shown tomorrow at Dartmouth, but athletic officials described the showing as "routine." The college will issue no comment on the pictures, it is said. Officials were pictured as feeling that it would be sportsmanlike to remain silent.

CORNELL'S VERSION

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 17 (AP).—Coach Carl Snavely and members of the Cornell squad appeared willing today to waive discussion of yesterday's 7 to 3 victory over Dartmouth. Especially discussion of the final, winning play which it is claimed came on a fifth down.

The players shrugged off talk of a protest or of conceding the victory to Dartmouth. They generally expressed the opinion that in the tense closing minutes of the game the head linesman's signal of a double offside on the fourth down was overlooked.

Motion pictures of the game are being developed and will be shown tomorrow. President Edmund E. Day and Athletic Director Jim Lynah of Cornell, have said the victory would be credited to Dartmouth if the pictures uphold the fifth down claim.

In the Wake of the News

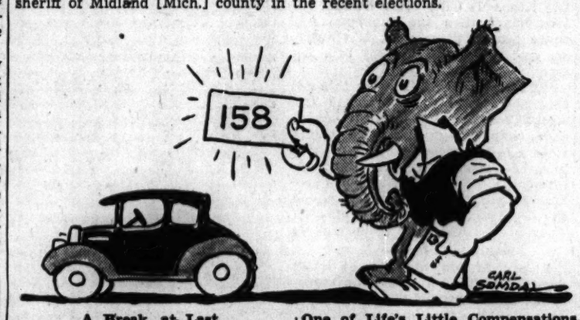
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—A tip to disgruntled college alumni, if any: The Massillon [O.] High school football team has won 32 straight games. . . . The coach's name is Paul Brown. . . . A letter addressed "Paul Brown, Ohio" would reach him. . . . Everybody knows him. . . . St. Andrew's High of Saginaw, Mich., is claiming high scoring honors for the state as a result of its 97 to 0 conquest of St. Mary's of Bay City. . . . Hockey is THE sport in Omaha. . . . Every rinkside box in the Coliseum has been sold for the season. . . . That 34 to 7 defeat at the hands of Mississippi was the most one-sided suffered by Holy Cross since it lost to Boston college, 34 to 6, in 1917. . . . Jack Chesbro and Ed Walsh are the only two pitchers in the so-called modern era of baseball to win 40 or more games in a single season. . . . Chesbro scored 41 triumphs for the Yankees in 1904 and Walsh duplicated the feat for the White Sox in 1908. . . . Harlond Clift of the Browns, who received a hunting rifle from admiring fans last summer, brought down a deer with it 90 minutes after the season opened in the state of Washington. . . . Joe Louis dropped four pounds while stumping for Wendell Willkie. . . . This is news: All the coaches and the 42 members of the Clemson football squad are from south of the Mason and Dixon line. . . . The Brooklyn baseball Dodgers are having huge success with strip tickets for the 1941 season. . . . Fans may purchase reserved seats for opening day, two holidays, and all night games and pay for them in installments. . . . They're going fast for Christmas presents. . . .

German bombers have wrecked famous old Thurston's billiard rooms in Leicester square, London. . . . Many professional billiard and snooker championships were decided there. . . . The loss includes many trophies of great antiquity. . . . Chuck Hanneman, captain of the Detroit Lions, has announced his retirement from football, effective at the close of the season. . . . He'll be 30 before the 1941 campaign opens and he claims that's too old. . . . Racing automobiles will be as large and expensive as ever next season, but a campaign is under way for cheaper and more uniform cars in 1942. . . . One of the pitching prospects on the 1941 Tiger roster is Hal White, 21 year old right hander from Buffalo. . . . He is 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs only 158 pounds. . . . Jimmy Adamick, the fighter, was defeated in the race for sheriff of Midland [Mich.] county in the recent elections.



A Break, at Last.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks last night led the Montreal Canadiens, 3 to 0, late in the second period and, 4 to 2, until the fifteenth minute of the third period. But when the game was over a crowd of 15,287 felt lucky its heroes had escaped with a 4 to 4 tie to remain in second place in the National Hockey league.

The Hawks were especially annoyed at the belated overtaking proccess because in Montreal a week earlier the same Canadiens had spotted the Hawks a 2 to 0 lead, then tied them 2 to 2 in an overtime encounter.

After trying to play a defensive game in the third period last night, the abashed Hawks resumed the offensive in the overtime period, but tho they developed many threats, they couldn't resume the advantage.

First Line Clicks.

The Hawks' opening line, composed of Mush March, George Allen and Bill Carse accounted for Chicago's first three goals before the Canadiens counted. The score become 3 to 1 when Joe Benoit counted three-fourths of the way thru the five goal second period, but the Hawks resumed a three point margin when Doug Bentley clicked with little over a minute to go in the second period.

With 44 seconds remaining in the second period, Tony Demers scored, and the Hawks went into the final period leading, 4 to 2. The score became 4 to 3 in 14 minutes and one second of the third period when Ken Reardon notched the only unassisted goal of the evening.

With 3 minutes and 9 seconds of the regulation time remaining, Jack Quilty tied the score at 4 all, and it stayed that way thru the 10 minutes of terrific overtime battling.

Stewart Assignment Sticks.

Referee Bill Stewart officiated despite the fact Owner Frederic McLaughlin had squawked against his assignment to Hawk games. Before the game Stewart said he'd brought along Mrs. Stewart to make sure he had one rooter in the house. Stewart worked his usual impartial game.

McLaughlin made no protest after Stewart showed up and all the protests came from the other side. In fact, one resulted in a misconduct penalty to Haynes and another developed after Stewart had ruled against the Canadiens on a disputed goal. The Canadiens thought they had scored.

The Blackhawks' next game will be Thursday night against the Boston Bruins in the Stadium.

Does History Repeat? Just Ask the Irish

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Notre Dame's steady decline in offensive effectiveness was climaxed Saturday in the upset of the year when Iowa duplicated its victory of 1939 and for a second time ended an Irish victory chain at six games. Only the almost unbelievable failure of the Irish attack on Iowa's 1 yard line in the fourth period prevented a Notre Dame score for the first time since the final game of the 1938 season.

This failure on attack was sufficient to insure Iowa the satisfaction of a scoreless tie, but in the remaining minutes, a fumble, a pass interception, and finally another Notre Dame fumble completely reversed the course of the game. After the last Irish error, Iowa's Bill Green sparked the twenty-four yard scoring assault. Notre Dame's collapse defensively at this time was even more unusual than was its failure to score.

It Was a Surprise.

The surprise of the Hawkeye victory is accentuated by Iowa's previous consecutive defeats by Indiana, Minnesota, Purdue, and Nebraska. This was matched by the declining curve of Irish prestige, which was saved against Army by a touchdown by pass interception and momentarily revived in the fourth period against Navy the following week when Notre Dame came from behind and won, 13 to 7.

We do not know the technical reasons for Notre Dame's defeat, but

NEW REGIME IS EXPECTED TO SHAKE UP CLUB

Status of Coaches in Doubt.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The 1941 edition of Chicago's Cubs will be put together by James Wilson, ex-Philly and ex-Cardinal and the same gentleman who, forgetting his 40 years, abandoned a peaceful coaching rôle to take an active part in the battles that led the Cincinnati Reds to their recent world series conquest over Detroit.

Announcement that Wilson, whose long career as a catcher includes five seasons as leader of the drab Phillies, had been picked to take over the managerial reins, was made last night by James Gallagher, the club's new general manager.

A contract hasn't been signed, but this detail will be disposed of today when Gabby Hartnett's successor arrives from Philadelphia, his home port, for a conference with his new employers.

A History of Recent Pilots.

Wilson is the fourth man to take a whirl at leading the Wrigley baseball forces since the club entered upon stormy days with the ousting of Joe McCarthy after the 1930 season.

The late William Wrigley, owner of the club and a long time admirer of Rogers Hornsby, installed his baseball idol in McCarthy's place. In the summer of 1932 relations between William Veeck, then club president, and Hornsby became strained, the result being the release of the manager on Aug. 2.

Next in the parade was Charley Grimm. He piloted the Cubs to a pennant in 1932 and again in 1935, but in July of 1938 followed in the footsteps of Hornsby. The Hartnett régime was set up and he, as Grimm had done after taking over in midseason in 1932, went on to win a pennant. Hartnett's reign came to a sudden close last Wednesday as part of a reshuffle President-Owner P. K. Wrigley hopes will lift the team out of the second division.

A Series of Negotiations.

Altho Hartnett remained in charge until last week, the search for a successor had been going on since immediately after the world series when a Cub emissary, with the consent of the Cincinnati club, put the proposition before Wilson. Recent negotiations with the new boss were carried on by Vice President Charles [Boots] Weber and Gallagher. Wilson arrived in Chicago two weeks ago and rumor immediately connected him with the Cub job.

Wrigley's first response to the Wilson rumor was the firing of Hartnett a week later. With Hartnett out of the way, Wrigley continued to insist that Wilson had not been named for the vacancy. The Cub owner merely said Wilson was among several men under consideration, but furnished a fairly broad hint by admitting he thought the fellow would make a good leader.

Other Cubs May Go.

The shuffling done by Wrigley in the front office and by the firing of Hartnett probably will be carried on down the line by Wilson. Some old Cub standbys undoubtedly will be pitched out thru the trade door during next month's baseball meetings in Atlanta, Ga., and in Chicago. It is expected that the new boss will want coaches of his own choosing. As he has had several weeks in which to think about the duties he will assume he may be able to outline some of his plans today.

Wilson still is on the Cincinnati club's reserve list as a player-coach, but this technicality offers no prob-

44 SOUTH SIDERS BOX TONIGHT IN C. Y. O. TOURNEY

Quarter-Finals Start in Three Classes.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Forty-four south side amateur boxers, still pepped up by their victories in eliminations held in St. Sabina Community center, will seek additional glory tonight when quarter-final fighting in the 10th annual Catholic Youth organization tournament opens in C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street.

There will be 22 bouts in every weight in three classes, open, novice, and beginners. Survivors will advance to the semi-final round, scheduled in the C. Y. O. gymnasium next Monday and Tuesday.

Dade Opposes O'Connell.

Three of the best appearing contests on the program will bring together Harold Dade, flyweight of Corpus Christi, and Salvadore Melendez, St. Jude Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe; Ed O'Connell, St. Nicholas of Tolentine, lightweight, and Al Reasoner Jr., Corpus Christi; and Joe O'Connell, light heavyweight brother of Eddie and also representing St. Nicholas of Tolentine, and Hiner Thomas, Corpus Christi.

Dade and Ed O'Connell distinguished themselves in the 1940 Golden Gloves tournaments, the former winning the Chicagoland 112 pound championship and O'Connell earning a city 135 pound title. Reasoner won a C. Y. O. novice featherweight championship in 1936 and followed up this accomplishment with an open welterweight title in 1938. Thomas is a double C. Y. O. open title holder, winning the middleweight belt in 1935 and again in 1938.

West Siders Tomorrow.

The quarter-finals will be continued tomorrow with fighting between representatives of the west side. North side preliminary winners will perform Wednesday. Suburban entrants will box in Joliet Friday and Saturday.

Dubs Bids for Knockout Over Hagen Tonight

Harvey Dubs, Windsor, Ont., lightweight, will try for his third knockout in his last four appearances in a six round bout tonight in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, against Floyd Hagen of St. Paul. After scoring a one round knockout over Indian Jimmy Maddox in Milwaukee, Dubs came to Chicago and beat Eu Eulien and stopped Pete Ferrand.

As a result, Karl Ogren, manager of Hagen, has not found it necessary to warn his protége against overconfidence, such as he carried in his bout with Johnny Pleasant three months ago.

Tonight's show will open with an eight round match between Settimo Terracina and Frank Greene, capable light heavyweights. It will be followed by a second contest of eight rounds between Clarence Brown, 1937 Catholic Youth organization heavyweight champion, and Orlando Trotter.

An additional eight round fight will involve Billy Gillespie, Stone Lake, Wis., heavyweight, and Mickey Hayes of Milwaukee.

Tarzan White will face Pete Baltran in a heavyweight wrestling engagement tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue.

Parker Beats Rams, 29-14, for Brooklyn

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—Ace Parker, former Duke university hero, played one of the finest games of his illustrious career in leading the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 29 to 14 victory over the Cleveland Rams in a National Football league game at Ebbets' field today.

The Dodgers were trailing by two touchdowns and appeared to be in for a generous hiding when Parker took charge just before the end of the first half. Thereafter it was all Parker as 19,212 raised the roof.

Parker scored the first Brooklyn touchdown on a sixty-eight yard run with an intercepted pass. He whipped passes to Dodger receivers for the next two and then set up the fourth and final score with a thirty-eight yard return of another intercepted pass. In all, Parker returned Ram passes of one hundred and six yards.

Even when Ralph Kercheval ran out in the third period to kick a forty-five yard field goal and put the Dodgers ahead, 16 to 14, Parker had a hand in it. His nineteen-yard run had put the ball in position, and he held it for Kercheval's effort. Parker also kicked two points after touchdown.

Mother.

I still can picture mother
In a simple gown of gingham,
She was a queen to me.
I told her of the troubles
That young folks all have had.
She'd comfort me and guide me
And they didn't seem so bad.
I see her in the kitchen
Midst her peach and apple pies.
How she'd neatly fill and mold them
What a treat for eager eyes!
Say, I'd give up all my riches
If I could but possess,
Just one more chance to hold her

Eagles Drop 9th in Row as Lions Triumph, 21 to 0

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17 (AP).—Detroit's powerful running attack was too much for the air minded Philadelphia Eagles today and the Lions triumphed 21 to 0, in a National football league game before 6,327 in Shibe park. It was the ninth straight defeat for the Eagles.

Led by Byron [Whizzer] White and Lloyd Cardwell, the Lions marched sixty-eight yards for a touchdown in the first period, sixty-six yards for another after taking the second half kickoff and capitalized on an Eagle fumble a few minutes later for their last score.

Cardwell scored the first touchdown on a thirty yard reverse wide around the Eagles right end. White made the other in the third period on end runs of seven and five yards, respectively. The lineup:

DETROIT [21].		PHILADELPHIA [0].

College Cross-Country Race Today to Draw 216

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—Tomorrow's 32d annual cross-country championships of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. has drawn a field of 216 runners representing 22 colleges and universities in the varsity race over a five mile course. Another group of 154 freshmen will compete at three miles.

Wilson Named Cub Leader; to Sign Today

lem. Warren Giles, general manager of the Reds, will be here today and present the veteran with his release as soon as the contract is signed. Meanwhile, a waiver request has been issued by the Cubs on the services of Hartnett, but another week may elapse before all the clubs either file a claim for his services or clear the road so that he can be freed by an unconditional release.

Wilson, born July 23, 1900, in Philadelphia of Scotch parentage, was a great soccer player as well as one of the National league's better catchers. He played his first professional ball at New Haven, Conn., in 1920, remaining there until purchased by the Phillies in 1923.

His Philly career was broken, only temporarily however, May 11, 1928 when he was traded to the Cardinals for Catcher Virgil Davis and Outfielder Homer Peel. Five years later, Nov. 15, 1933, he was traded back to the Phillies, who shipped Davis and Infielder Edward Delker to the Cardinals. Wilson was immediately appointed manager of the Phillies, supplanting Burt Shotton. He held the post for five seasons, going to the Reds as a coach in 1939.

While with the Cardinals he participated in the 1928, 1930, and 1931 world series. He also was a member of the National league squads in the all star games of 1933 and '35.

San Francisco Wins Over Chicago in Roller Derby

San Francisco roller skating team defeated Chicago, 142 to 140, in the final night of racing last night at the Coliseum. Elmer Anderson, captain of the Californians, scored the two winning points.

History Does Repeat—Just Ask the Irish

statistics prove Iowa was no better and no worse than in preceding games. Iowa gained a net of 77 yards by rushing [compared with 60 yards against Nebraska], and did not complete a pass in three attempts. But Iowa was alert.

May Bounce Back Against N. U.

Notre Dame's defeat may be more bad luck for Northwestern. Beaten by one point by Minnesota and by one touchdown in the battle with Michigan Saturday for second place in the Big Nine, the Wildcats now will face an aroused Irish squad in the last game of the season in Dyche stadium Saturday.

While Northwestern lost to Michigan, 20 to 13, handicap of the wind and indifferent protection for the punter gave the Wolverines a two touchdown first quarter lead.

Michigan now must defeat Ohio State, winner Saturday over Illinois, 14 to 6, to insure second place in the Big Nine. If Ohio State defeats the Wolverines then the Buckeyes will share second place with Northwestern and Michigan will drop to a .500 standing.

Wisconsin still could share this .667 rating by defeating Minnesota this week. The Gophers won the conference championship with their fifth victory of the season over Purdue, 33 to 6. Since early victories over the University of Washington and Nebraska, probable Big Six champion, the Gophers have improved steadily. They overpowered the Boilermakers.

Badgers Continue Rise.

Wisconsin whipped Indiana Saturday, 27 to 10, with three touchdowns in the second period, and the Badgers now challenge the Wildcats for recognition as the never-say-die squad in the conference. Overwhelmed by Iowa and Northwestern, the Badgers have won three conference victories in a row.

The undefeated class thruout the nation now includes, in addition to Minnesota, Stanford, Texas A. & M., Tennessee, Boston college, and Cornell. Of these, Cornell must be the most thankful, for the Big Red scored the touchdown that defeated Dartmouth, 7 to 3, in the final six seconds. Moreover, that score was disputed, since Dartmouth contended the winning pass was thrown on a fifth down when the ball should have passed over after four failures.

Aggies, Stanford in Bowl?

Texas Aggies whipped Rice, 25 to 0, with John Kimbrough smashing Rice's line to assist in keeping the Aggies' record intact. Only Texas remains on the schedule. This game will be played Nov. 28 and by winning it the Aggies may qualify as Stanford's opponent in the Rose Bowl.

Stanford clinched at least a share of the Pacific coast conference title by whipping Oregon State, 28 to 14. Since Stanford defeated Washington, which is the only eleven that can tie it for the conference title, the Indians will be the Rose Bowl choice. They will choose their own opponent.

Schaefer to Play Chamaco 240 Point Billiard Match

Jake Schaefer and Joe Chamaco, contestants in the world three-cushion tournament in Chicago last winter, will open a 240-point match at 3 o'clock Friday at Bensinger's, 131 South Wabash avenue. The match will be played in blocks of 60.

MONARCHS TAKE LEAD IN SUNDAY CLASSIC BOWLING

The Monarch Beers went into the lead in the Sunday division of the Classic Bowling league last night in Legion recreation. They took two games from the Blatz Beers while the Koenigs, former leaders, lost three to the Michelobs. In winning two games from the Ambrosias, the Pabst Blue Ribbons went into a tie for second place with Koenig. The Schlitz defeated Ruppert twice.

Michelob bowled 1,073 for high game. Ambrosia Beers shot 1,070 and did not have an open frame. Michelob's 3,064 was high team series.

ZALE WINNER OF MIDGET FEATURE; NEW RECORD SET

Wally Zale of Chicago won the 30 lap feature event of the midget auto race program for the second consecutive week last night in the International amphitheater. The time was 5:07.97. Ray Richards finished second; Bob Muhlke, third; Myron Fohr, fourth, and Harry MacQuinn, fifth.

Richards set a new indoor track record in the 15 lap event, outspeeding Pete Nielson, Zale, and Muhlke. The time was 2:34.84.

BEARS LOSE TO REDSKINS, 7-3, AS RALLY FAILS

als. He got away a punt that traveled seventy-nine yards from the line of scrimmage. He averaged fifty-six yards on three kicks, which included one against the wind which went only twenty-seven yards.

Redskins Start Inauspiciously.

The Redskins got away to an inauspicious start when Wilkin's opening kickoff soared out of bounds and the Bears got the ball on their 45 yard line. Nolting and McAfee picked up nine yards and after a forward pass, Luckman to Wilson, was broken up Luckman punted to Johnston on the Redskins' 10 yard line. Hoffman, who was a member of the 1940 Chicago All-Star squad, recovered a Washington fumble for a loss of two yards. Baugh quick kicked on second down, the ball traveling 72 yards to the Bears' 13 yard line.

Luckman's pass to Plasman was completed for a 21 yard gain. Osmanski was stopped at the scrimmage line and Nolting went around his right end for three yards. After a pass, Luckman to McAfee, was grounded Luckman punted to the Redskins' 24 yard line and then came a break that proved costly to the Bears. The play was called back and the Bears penalized 15 yards for clipping at the point of the infraction, and the ball was given to the Redskins on Chicago's 34 yard line.

Baugh Passes to Justice.

Baugh whipped a pass to Justice which was good for nine yards. Johnston banged thru the Bears' middle for a first down on the 21 yard line. Baugh passed to Johnston for a gain of a yard and then flipped one to Malone for an eight yard advance. Hoffman cracked thru right guard for a first down on the Bears' 10 yard line.

The Bears dug in with one of their finest defensive stands of the season. Plasman swept into the Washington back field and threw Johnston for a loss of seven yards. Osmanski smeared Baugh's pass intended for Malone. Baugh completed one to Johnston for 13 yards, but the Redskins were still short of a first down. Baugh's pass to Millner was poorly directed and the Bears took the ball on their 20 yard line.

McAfee Recovers Fumble.

After an exchange of punts the Redskins again headed down field, but McAfee halted the march by recovering a fumble on the Bears' 36. Nolting, on two thrusts at the right side of the Redskin line, made 15 yards. McAfee then broke off the Washington right tackle and cut back for a first down on the Redskins' 29 yard line. After two line plays and a pass netted only six yards, Manders scored a field goal from the 33 yard line just before the end of the first quarter.

The Redskins' touchdown drive started at midfield, and they carried the ball straight down the field in an unbroken march. A pass Filchock to Masterson, and a six yard gain by Todd gave the Redskins a first down on the Bears' 22 yard line. Filchock picked up three yards thru the line. He then passed to Todd, who had raced straight for the left side line. Artoe got his hands on him, but couldn't hold him and Todd set out for the goal. The path was cleared when Russell took both McAfee and Chesney, the Bears' defenders, out of the play. Todd crossed the goal line standing up. Russell kicked the point and the Redskins led 7 to 3.

Neither team had further scoring opportunities the rest of the half.

McAfee put the Redskins in a hole early in the third quarter by kicking 79 yards out of bounds on Washington's 3 yard line. The ball sailed so high it was lost to view in the press box at the top of its flight. Baugh, however, kicked his team out of danger with a 63 yard punt against the wind that caught the Bears' secondary napping. The Bears then drove to the Redskins' 25, but on fourth down Millner, whose furious end play caused the Bears no end of trouble, trapped Maniaci for a loss to four yards and the ball went over to the Redskins.

On two other occasions in the last half, in addition to their desperate attempt in the final seconds, the Bears failed after marching into scoring territory. They were bogged on the 8 at the start of the fourth quarter when Luckman's fourth down pass to McLean was incomplete. They charged back again to Washington's 13 for a first down, and at last it looked as if the Bears were going to get the decisive touchdown.

Titchenal, Redskin center who played brilliantly thruout, nailed Famiglietti for a six yard loss. Luckman's pass to Nolting was incomplete, but he connected to Famiglietti on the 8 yard line. A fourth down pass by Luckman into the end zone was no good and the Redskins took the ball on their 20. The statistics:

LEO WINS, 10-0; GAINS CATHOLIC LEAGUE FINAL

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Leo of the south side or De Paul of the north division will be the Catholic league's representative in Mayor Kelly's All-City prep football championship game on Nov. 30. Leo, which has appeared in the charity spectacle three times since the game was first held in 1934 under the sponsorship of Chicago's Own Christmas benefit fund, qualified to meet the Demons by defeating Catholic High of Joliet, 10 to 0, before a crowd of 10,000 in Shewbridge field yesterday afternoon.

It was Leo's fifth victory and the Lions finished their sectional campaign with only a 6 to 6 tie with De La Salle marring their record. The Lions next Sunday will meet De Paul, which clinched the north section title last week, probably in Soldiers' field. The lake front arena also will be the site of the Public School league title contest Saturday afternoon between Fenger and Lindblom.

Joliet's Third Defeat.

Wally McGovern, De Paul coach, and members of the north side eleven were among the spectators who watched Leo capture the south zone championship by rallying in the fourth quarter to score a touchdown and a field goal. It was Joliet's third defeat in six games.

The hero in Leo's victory was Henry [Babe] Baranowski, the brilliant quarter back, who has played an important part in every Leo game this season. Baranowski pitched a 30 yard pass to Bob Hanlon, left half back, who ran 20 more yards to score in the last period. Five minutes later Baranowski assured Leo of the sectional title by kicking a field goal from the 15 yard line.

Mount Carmel, winner of the Catholic league title in 1938 and 1939, finished in second place in the division by defeating Fenwick of Oak Park, 7 to 0. Ziggy Czarobski scored Mount Carmel's winning touchdown in the third period.

St. George Wins, 38-0.

St. George, which was beaten by Leo in the 1937 finals, took second place in the north section by routing St. Patrick, 38 to 0, on St. George's field in Evanston. In other final sectional games St. Ignatius triumphed over St. Mel, 6 to 0, in Austin field; St. Philip scored in the last quarter to win from Weber, 7 to 0, in St. Philip field, and St. Rita and De La Salle played a scoreless tie in St. Rita field.

Sparta on Way to Title Again; Beats Vikings

BY OFFSIDE.

The Sparta Ogden Dairy, joint national soccer champions, leaped its first hurdle to another title yesterday when it defeated the Vikings of the International league, 2 to 0, in a second round match in Sparta stadium.

Both goals, scored in the first period, were of the scratchy order, Jimmy Wolf getting the first after 10 minutes of play, and Baba Vicek netting from a penalty kick for a handling offense.

Playing with a strong sun and wind behind them, Sparta took the offensive at the outset. The first chance to score came after nine minutes. Jensen, standing on the goal line, kicked clear while Eddie Camplin, the Vikings' goal keeper, was out of the goal. A minute later, during scrimmage, Wolf shot over several players' heads into the net from 10 yards.

The Vikings came back for their first chance at the Sparta goal, Roscoe Andersen shooting past from 5 yards. Sparta kept the Vikings defending, but failed to add to its score until 40 minutes when the penalty was called and Vicek shot past Camplin to give the champions a two goal lead.

With the sun and wind assisting them, the Vikings applied pressure in the second half. Late in the game, Roscoe Andersen got past both Sparta defenders, but shot over the bar from 8 yards. Frequent fouls were called for rough play as the Vikings kept up a hard drive until the finish.

The International league furnished more surprises yesterday when the champion Swedes were tied, 2 to 2 by the Schwabens, and the Slovaks, who are scheduled to play their National Cup match next Sunday, came from behind to beat the Kickers, 2 to 1. The Hakoah and Centers also tied, 2 to 2. Other scores:

Big 10 Holds Cross Country Meet Today

Thin clad athletes will expose their bare legs and arms to the wind and cool weather this afternoon in the 26th annual Western conference cross-country run, starting at 2 o'clock over a four mile course in Washington park.

Fifty-four contestants representing six of the Big Ten members are scheduled to compete. No entries were filed by Northwestern, Minnesota, Iowa, and Michigan.

Indiana's formidable team, headed by Campbell Kane, Wayne Tolliver, and Edgar Hedges, will attempt to regain the team title relinquished last year to Wisconsin. Kane, as a sophomore last year, started his track campaign auspiciously by winning the indoor one mile run and placing second in the half mile. Other members of the Hoosier team are Vernon Broertjes, Delmar Persinger, Marcellous Jenkins, Murlyn Wilson, and Kay Hilkert.

Wisconsin will depend primarily on Howard Knox and Howard Schoenike, both veterans, but is minus the services of Ed Buxton and Bill Farin, who as seniors led the Badgers to the 1939 championship.

Other outstanding runners who will bid for the individual title are Park Brown of Illinois, Ed Holderman and Bob Jarvis of Purdue, Lester Eisenhart and Gene Kiracofe of Ohio State, and Ray Randall, Chicago sophomore star. Chicago also has entered Cliff Stabenau and Earl Ratzer.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Like a Thief in the Night

CATHOLIC PARLEY AND PROTESTANT MISSION OPENED

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Two church meetings of interest to Protestants and Catholics opened four day sessions in Chicago yesterday. One was Protestantism's national Christian mission which held a dozen mass meetings in various parts of the city. The other was the national conference of Catholic charities which began activities with a solemn high pontifical mass in Holy Name cathedral.

Seventy-one bishops and archbishops of the Catholic hierarchy of America moved in procession thru Superior street to the State street portals of Holy Name cathedral. These were followed by Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, celebrant of the mass and convener of the conference which begins business and study sessions in the Stevens hotel today.

Pope Cables Blessings.

Pipe Pius XII. cabled blessings as follows: "The holy father imparts pledge of abundant divine favors and apostolic blessing." The message was signed by Cardinal Luigi Maglione, papal secretary.

Bishop Karl J. Alter of the diocese of Toledo, O., delivered the sermon. He emphasized the need of Christian character in all charitable, relief, and welfare activities, as against what he called the "feeble humanitarianism" of much that is known as modern charity.

Protestants stressed renewed devotion to the Founder of the Christian faith and faithfulness to the ideals of the churches at the opening sessions of the mission. The mission is a project of the Federal Council of Churches.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, famed religious author and mission leader in India, spoke at rallies in the Englewood Baptist church, the Wendell Phillips High school, where Olivet Baptist church is now holding services as a result of a fire, and Orchestra hall, where the Sunday Evening club met last night.

"London's Jane Addams" Talks.

Muriel Lester of London, England, known as London's Jane Addams, addressed two gatherings yesterday afternoon in Oak Park, and a mass meeting in Chicago Lawn Methodist church last night. Dr. Adolph Keller of Geneva, Switzerland, was the North Shore Sunday Evening club speaker in New Trier High school, Winnetka.

The meetings of the mission today are:

CHICAGO TEMPLE—Minister's meeting, 10:30 a. m.

HOTEL SHERMAN—Women's meeting, 10:30 a. m.

HOTEL SHERMAN — Business men's luncheon, 12:15.

CHICAGO TEMPLE—Seminars beginning at 2:30 p. m.

UNION AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH, 43d place and Union avenue—7:30 p. m.

NORTH AUSTIN LUTHERAN CHURCH, Mason and Le Moyne avenues—7:30 p. m.

AURORA FIRST METHODIST CHURCH—7:30 p. m.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH, Seminary and Barry avenues—8 p. m.

IRVING PARK LUTHERAN CHURCH, Belle Plaine and Harding avenues—8 p. m.

Chicago meetings are being held in coöperation with the Chicago Church federation with its 19 constituent denominations.

JUKES QUIET, BUT TAVERN OWNERS HAVE HIGH HOPES

Juke boxes were dark and silent last night by order of the police, who acted on an antijuke ruling of the city law department, but bartenders predicted that the musical nickel-snatching machines will run once more after a licensing ordinance is passed. Radios and ordinary phonographs were serving as substitutes meanwhile.

On the juke boxes were signs reading "Out of Order" and "Do not play." Altho tavern owners had disconnected the machines they said the boxes will "just set there" awaiting future developments.

"It's unconstitutional," said Dan Goodman, owner of a place at 1131 South Wabash avenue. He repeated: "It's unconstitutional. That ordinance against coin machines was supposed to apply to pin-ball gambling. We didn't have juke boxes when it was passed."

Another owner observed: "The city is just putting on the slug for more revenue. Pretty soon they'll pass a law licensing the jukes."

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. Eat All-Bran regularly, and drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Elizabeth Clarkson Crane.

Friends here received word yesterday of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Clarkson Crane, member of a family once prominent in Chicago, in Carmel, Cal., Saturday. Born in Chicago in 1875, she married Harold O. Crane, a Chicago manufacturer, in 1892. In 1911 they moved to California. Mrs. Crane was a descendant of Thomas Clarkson, the first secretary of the colony of New York. One uncle, the Rev. Robert H. Clarkson, was rector of St. James Episcopal church here and afterward bishop of Nebraska. Another uncle, Thadeaus S. Clarkson, at one time was commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. A son, Clarkson Crane, is an author and lecturer at Berkeley university. At Mrs. Crane's bedside during her illness was her only sister, the wife of former Circuit Judge Thomas Taylor of Chicago.

Mrs. Joseph A. Herrmann.

Mrs. Joseph A. Herrmann, widow of an old time horseman, died yesterday in the Hinsdale hospital. Her death occurred a week after that of her husband, who died in the same hospital. Both had been ill for several weeks. Mrs. Herrmann was active in club work and was one of the founders and a past president of the Renaissance club, and had served as a delegate to the Municipal Art league, the Better American Speech society, and the Federation of Cook County Women's Clubs. She lived at 914 Gordon terrace. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in St. Mary of the Lake church. Burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Rear Admiral T. S. Jewett.

New York, Nov. 17 (Special).—Rear Admiral T. S. Jewett, United States navy, 74, retired, died at the Naval hospital in Brooklyn today after a four month illness. He was born in Niles, Mich., and entered Annapolis when he was 17. At the end of three and a half years he left the naval academy to go into business with his father but in 1892 he reëntered the navy. During the world war he was chief supply officer. He retired in 1930, but recently was placed again on the active list.

Ben-Allen Samuel.

Ben-Allen Samuel, Chicago district sales manager for the Upressit Products corporation, died early yesterday in his home at 38 South Blaine avenue, Hinsdale, after an illness of more than six years. Mr. Samuel, who was 73 years old, was connected with the American Can company for 25 years before going to Upressit in 1926. He leaves his widow, Lula Carradine Samuel, and two sons, Marshall and John. Services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the chapel at 2d and Washington streets, Hinsdale.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baldwin Howard.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baldwin Howard, widow of Timothy J. Howard, former police captain of the old South Park district, died yesterday in her home at 6651 Ingleside avenue. She leaves three sons, John B., Emmett, and Harold Howard, and two sisters. Services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in the Holy Cross church at 65th street and Maryland avenue. Burial will be in Holy Sepiuchre cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Gearin.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Gearin, a resident of the west side for more than 60 years, will be held at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday in St. Mel's church. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery. Mrs. Gearin, widow of John J. Gearin, died Saturday in the home of a daughter, Mrs. M. J. Somers, 4502 Washington boulevard. She was 80 years old and had been active in nursing and charitable work. Also surviving are another daughter, Marie; a son, Dr. J. J. Gearin; three grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Minnie Kraeckmann Kilian.

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Kraeckmann Kilian, who died Friday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Madeleine Landers, 5534 Monroe street, will be held at 9:30 a. m. today in Immaculate Conception church, Schiller street and North Park avenue. Mrs. Kilian was 82 years old, and had lived in Chicago all her life. Her home in recent years was at 1404 North Park avenue. Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Landers, are another daughter, Lilian Kilian, and four sons by a previous marriage, Emil, George, William and Edward Voss.

Dr. Edith Williams Littlejohn.

Dr. Edith Williams Littlejohn, an osteopathic physician, died yesterday in her home at 726 Junior terrace. She was the wife of Dr. James B. Littlejohn, a physician, and the daughter of the Rev. Hugh Spencer Williams, a clergyman in Englewood before that section was annexed to Chicago. Besides her husband, she leaves three children, Ellen V., James B. Jr., and Hugh S. Littlejohn, and a brother, Harvey S. Williams. Funeral services will be private.

CHARLES J. BOUR, RETIRED HEAD OF SHIP LINES, DIES

Charles J. Bour, who retired in 1935 as chairman of the board of the Chicago, Duluth, and Georgian Bay Transit company, died yesterday in Miami Beach, Fla. He was 78 years old. For 25 years Mr. Bour was president of the firm, which operates passenger steamships on the Great Lakes.

About 40 years ago Mr. Bour initiated the use of advertising car cards in Illinois Central suburban trains while he was with that company. Later he was in the advertising department of the Chicago Elevated lines. While a resident of the south side he was active in real estate promotion and community improvement programs.

The widow, Mrs. Carrie Bour, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Brown of Miami Beach, survive. Mr. Bour's home was in Deland, Fla., where funeral services will be held today.

RAYMOND PEARL, BIOLOGIST, DIES IN BALTIMORE, 61

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 17 (AP).—Dr. Raymond Pearl, 61 years old, biologist who gained world-wide fame for his studies on longevity, genetics, and population, died in Hershey, Pa., early today of a heart attack.

He was professor of biology at the Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health, a post he held 10 years while directing and initiating research into the influence of environment and constitution on man's chances for longer life.

DIES OF WOUNDS AFTER SHOOTING IN JUKE QUARREL

Joseph Maloney, 32 years old, who was shot and wounded last Tuesday in a quarrel over a noisy juke box in a chili parlor at 8901 Mackinaw avenue, died yesterday in South Shore hospital. Maloney, a crane operator, lived at 8903 Mackinaw avenue, next door to the chili parlor.

Policeman Francis Farrell of the Pekin station, Maloney's brother-in-law, who also was wounded, is recovering in South Chicago hospital. The two went to the parlor to complain about loud music late at night. Mrs. Maloney is ill in her home.

Police said the two quarreled with John Bosquez, cook and waiter in the place, who seized Farrell's service pistol and fired at both. Bosquez said that he fired when he was attacked by Maloney. He is held for an inquest today.

Urge Roosevelt to Name Negro to Supreme Court

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The National Negro council asked today that the next Supreme court vacancy be filled by a Negro and that President Roosevelt appoint a Negro as one of his six White House secretaries.

J. S. COSDEN, OIL MAN IS DEAD OF HEART ATTACK

Made, Lost Millions in Oklahoma.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 17 [Special].—Joshua S. Cosden, 59 years old, who rose from a drug clerk to an oil magnate with a fortune of $25,000,000, died of a heart attack aboard a train en route here from Palm Springs, Cal. Cosden was stricken as the train reached Willcox, Ariz.

A colorful figure always, "Game Josh" Cosden had recovered from several financial falls—but not the last one. He was former president of the Cosden Oil company with oil holdings and refineries in Texas and Oklahoma.

Just a few days ago some of the remnants of his once great fortune were sold at auction in New York for $66,500. The property consisted of $50,000 in insurance policies, a lease on a three floor coöperative apartment in New York, and some notes.

Entertains Prince of Wales.

The shifting sands of oil luck carried Cosden to Wall street. He crashed the portals of New York society by obtaining a week-end visit from the prince of Wales in 1924. On that occasion a thief stole $150,000 worth of Mrs. Cosden's jewels and $10,000 in gems belonging to another guest, Lady Mountbatten.

Two years later Cosden & Co. passed out of his hands, to become the Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation. For a time the family retired from the spotlight while villas on Long Island and at Palm Beach and Newport were sold, and the Cosden private railway car disposed of.

Cosden began another climb in 1928 with $3,000,000 raised for him by his eastern friends. He went back to the Oklahoma oil fields and by canny investments in land he built up a new Cosden Oil company with assets of $15,000,000.

On Comeback Trail Again.

The world depression came along and knocked "Game Josh" down again, and illness was added to his troubles. A receiver was appointed for his company. But in 1933 Cosden bought the properties for $501,000 and he was on the comeback trail again.

Mrs. Cosden pitched in by opening an interior decorating shop on Fifth avenue in New York. She was Cosden's second wife, and had been divorced from Charles F. Roeser, another resident in "oil millionaire's row" in Tulsa. Cosden, who was born in Maryland, first wed the daughter of a Baltimore mattress manufacturer. She bore him three children, Ottille, Stanley, and Joshua Jr. They were divorced in 1915.

The Cosden touch was shown by his building a 16 story structure, then the tallest in Tulsa, where with the second Mrs. Cosden he occupied a penthouse. Mrs. Cosden was reported en route to El Paso from New York by plane and Joshua Jr. was on the way here from Fort Worth.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

MACHINE TOOL OUTPUT DOUBLE YEAR AGO TOTAL

Industry's Capacity Is Still Rising.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 17 (AP).—Current construction of machine tools is double that of a year ago the National Machine Tool Builders association reported today. Productive capacity of the industry, already increased 50 per cent in a year, is expanding.

F. V. Geier.

The association announced members' October operations averaged 96.8 per cent of capacity, up 1.9 from September. Capacity, measured in terms of pay roll hours, was 50.3 per cent above September, 1939. In October, 1939, operations were at 84.9 per cent of the capacity at that time.

Capacity Is Increased.

"The industry is meeting the country's defense needs by increased operating schedules and by extensive plant operations," said F. V. Geier, association president. "Productive capacity has been substantially increased in the last year by four steps—the addition of floor space, the installation of more equipment, and better utilization of existing equipment, increased employment and employe training, and subcontracting parts to qualified machine shops."

The association defines machine tools as nonportable devices used to shape metals by means of chip-cutting. They are vital in defense.

Plane Makers Big Buyers.

A Cleveland machine tool builder reported approximately 55 per cent of orders being received are from the aviation industry. This company, Warner & Swasey, is turning out nearly 300 turret lathes a month, compared with 150 in the summer of 1939.

It has orders for all the turret lathes that it can produce in the next year, President Charles J. Stillwell said.

Declares Texas Can Supply All of World's Oil Needs

4 Professors Say Idleness Can Be Ended

Unemployment could be eliminated entirely and the national income raised at least by one-third within the next two years under an adequately planned and financed defense program, in the view of four members of the University of Chicago faculty. Their study was made public thru the American Council on Public Affairs.

The professors—Henry Simon Bloch, Oscar Lange, Frederick Harbison, and H. Gregg Lewis—reached these conclusions after examining the financial, economic, social, industrial, and labor aspects of the national defense problem.

Predicts Big Reemployment.

One of them hazarded the prediction that 4,500,000 unemployed persons probably will be returned to jobs in the next year as a result of selective service and expanding employment in defense industries. Among conclusions and recommendations of the professors were:

To prevent the development of totalitarian methods, the federal government should mobilize defense resources and materials thru closely supervised councils within industry itself.

Standard of Living.

A substantial improvement in the standard of living is possible if defense outlays are financed thru funds which would not otherwise be spent for consumers' goods.

The cost of defense can be met to a large extent thru the use of idle human and material resources financed by the creation of additional monetary purchasing power, without hurt to the country's general economic system.

Progressive taxation, steepening of surtax rates, and maximum limits on annual individual incomes should be invoked, and all gifts, inheritances, and bequests should be included in the annual taxable income of the taxpayer.

STEEL OUTPUT CUT A SHADE BY REPAIRS, STRIKE

Cleveland, O., Nov. 17 (AP).—Steel operations last week dipped for the first time since September, slipping a half point to 96 per cent of capacity, the magazine Steel said today. The decline was attributed to furnace repairs and a Pennsylvania strike.

Gains in three districts, declines in three and unchanged figures in six contributed to the 96 per cent operating rate last week.

The review's steel scrap composite changed for the first time in six weeks, rising 17 cents to $20 a ton. The iron and steel composite is one cent higher at $38.07 and finished steel is unchanged at $56.60.

MARTIN BOMBERS.

I have been reading about government orders placed with the Martin company. Have you a brief history of the company and a financial report?—E. C.

Answer: The Glenn L. Martin company, Middle River, Md., was founded in 1909 by Glenn L. Martin, who is still its president. The company's first military airplane was delivered to the army in 1913. As the demands of the world war increased, a plant was opened in Cleveland, O., in 1917, and the company moved from its original headquarters in California.

After the purchase in 1929 of a 1,200 acre tract on Middle river, an estuary of Chesapeake bay, the company established its factories, offices, and laboratories on this site. Present floor space of 1,263,000 square feet is to be expanded eventually to 3,800,000 square feet by construction which started recently to meet requirements of the national defense program. An airfield and seaplane base adjoin the plant.

A major supplier of military aircraft, Martin is concentrating on production of a long-range patrol and bombing flying boat for the navy and a twin engine high speed bomber for the army. The company has specialized in designing and building heavy military craft, especially bombers, and huge commercial flying boats.

United States and foreign government orders have swelled Martin's backlog to $325,000,000. Unfilled orders last Sept. 30 exceeded $216,000,000 against $66,400,000 a year earlier.

Profits of the company have reflected the vast increase in military work. Net income in the first nine months this year was $4,814,984, equal to $4.40 a common share, compared with $1,513,778 or $1.39 a share in the same period of 1939.

	Net sales	Net income	Earned per sh.
1935.....	$ 1.754.701	*$ 840.259	*$2 24
1936.....	6.219.092	752.592	0.89
1937.....	7.839.348	1.124.918	1.29
1938.....	12.417.417	2.340.355	2.15
1939.....	24.169.469	4.110.606	3.75

*Loss.

The company paid an initial dividend of $1 a share last Dec. 21 and a dividend of $1 a share last July 19. There are outstanding 1,094,532 shares of $1 par common stock.

BURLINGTON UNIT BUYS NEW BUSES; REVENUES MOUNT

Purchase of 10 additional de luxe Diesel powered buses from the General Motors corporation for use on Burlington Trailways, a subsidiary of the Burlington railroad, was announced yesterday. When delivery is made early next year the bus system will have 50 of this type of bus.

"Use of this type of bus, which is completely air conditioned, in 1939 gave us the best year in our history, with gross revenues of $1,721,000," William Tanzer, passenger traffic manager, said. "We expect 1940 gross revenues will exceed $2,250,000. During the first nine months of this year we carried 118,000 more persons than a year ago."

INDUSTRY INDEX RISES TO 128 PCT. OF '35-'39 AVERAGE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17 (AP).—The federal reserve board reported today that its index of industrial activity rose to a new high of 128 per cent of the 1935-1939 average during October. That was a gain of three points over September and two points above the previous high mark reached last December.

Production continued to rise in the st half of November, the board said. New orders for both defense and civilian needs continued in large volume.

Farnsworth Television Reports Big Sales Gain

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 17 [Special].—An improved operating position for Farnsworth Television and Radio corporation was disclosed here today when E. A. Nicholas, president, announced that total sales in the first half of the company's fiscal year, which ended Oct. 31, were $2,234,783. This was an increase of $1,023,563, or more than 84 per cent, over the corresponding period last year.

BETTER DEMAND BOOSTS GRAINS AND SOY BEANS

Reach Peak Levels Since Last May.

Inflation possibilities provided the incentive for a broadening in processor and speculative demand for grains and soy beans last week. Prices advanced to new seasonal high levels except on the December deliveries of wheat, corn, and rye.

Not since last May had grains sold so high. December wheat showed an upturn of about 22 cents from the low of last August. Corn and oats advanced about 10 cents during the period.

Farmers Expect Higher Prices.

Inflation possibilities, brokers say, have resulted in bolstering farmers' hopes that still higher prices will be realized for all grains. Wheat continues to flow into government loans, with 250,000,000 bushels from the 1940 harvest officially reported pledged by farmers. An additional 30,000,000 bushels have been resealed from the 1939 program, or owned by the Federal Crop Insurance corporation, or otherwise held off the market.

Announcement is expected to be made early this week regarding the amount of money that the government will lend on the 1940 corn crop. Semi-official and trade reports have indicated that the figure will be 60 or 61 cents, compared with 57 cents loaned on the 1937-'39 crops.

Wisconsin Public Service Plans Large Expansions

The Wisconsin Public Service corporation, a unit in the Standard Gas and Electric company system, will spend $4,478,000 for new construction in 1941, J. P. Pulliam, president, announced yesterday.

DOUGLAS AIRCRAFT CO. HAS MANY PLANS TO PROTECT NEW PLANT

Santa Monica, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP).—Douglas Aircraft company officials said today elaborate precautions will be taken to protect their projected $11,000,000 factory at Long Beach from any possible attack by enemy aircraft.

Camouflage landscaping and "light traps" to make the plant nearly invisible day and night.

November Auto Production Estimate Is Raised Again

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17 [Special].—Despite a decline expected for this week in automobile assemblies, possibly to fewer than 100,000 cars and trucks, total production of the motor car industry in November may rise to 475,000, Ward's Automotive Reports said today. It was the second upward revision in the agency's estimate for November.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

Salesmen.

Y-O-U-R O-W-N

B-U-S-I-N-E-S-S

Would you be interested in starting a business for yourself without 1 cent of investment on your part?

Well, that is exactly what we have done for many men in this territory.

These men are previous storekeepers, doctors, lawyers, shopworkers, mechanics, etc., and are now earning and receiving in percentage as much as $50 in a single day.

We are an old line, nationally known manufacturer of electrical units that defy competition and for which there is a constantly increasing demand.

Now, here are the arrangements: You must be between 24 and 54, preferably married, honest, reliable, possess a neat appearance and possess at least a grammar school education.

At this time we will only interview men living in the South Side and southern Cook county.

Every man answering this advertisement will be given a confidential interview and if selected will be trained at our expense in our methods, which are successful.

There are no strings attached to the offer, as we even can pay rent, light, heat, telephone and hire, contain our merchandise and finance your account.

Apply Monday at 1 p. m. sharp. Ask for Mr. Leonard, 2d floor, Standard National Bank Building, 7919 S. Ashland-av.

EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY

I want to give every sales minded man in Chicago the opportunity of seeing the wonderful electrical product that is financed by the United States government through the E. H. F. A. on the basis that every one can afford to buy. Because of our new sales program, whereby our men receive their entire full commission on all sales, they are able to draw from $100 to $200 per week.

We have changed the lives of hundreds of men and their families from poverty, worries, and despair to happiness, contentment, and independence. One hour of your time may mean the most profitable investment you have made in your lifetime. 22 of our men have been promoted in the last few months to distributorships with remunerations of $10,000 a year and up.

Cut this ad out now, answer all other ads—then at 11 a. m. Monday, call at 510 N. Dearborn, Room 528—no other time.
